Pakistan Says India Now On Defensive

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The heaviest fighting of the India-Pakistan conflict was reported swirling along the northern front Saturday and spreading of the struggle to eastern sectors appeared imminent. Pakistan claimed India's army is now "wholly" on the defensive.

An Indian spokesman said "very fierce battles—the heaviest battles so far"—were being fought in the Sialkot and Lahore region of northern Pakistan, where each side struggled to protect its cities against the other's tanks. Sialkot is at the northern end of the front 60 miles north of Lahore.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri warned India may have to take counter measures in eastern areas of the subcontinent because of what he called provocative Pakistani air raids against strategic Indian installations in east India.

There has been no large scale ground fighting in the east but the Indian government made clear it will fight to halt what it says are Pakistani threats to air fields and supply routes leading to Indian units on the Red China front.

These threats include air raids and what authorities in eastern India said was a drop by Pakistani paratroopers Friday.

All in all, it was a gloomy picture for U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, who arrived in Bombay, India, and is to fly to New Delhi Sunday on the last leg of his peace mission. His just-ended talks in Pakistan generally were regarded in New Delhi as unpromising.

In Moscow, it was disclosed at a news conference that Premier Alexei N. Kosygin had appealed to both sides to halt the fighting, pull back their armies, and let Thant settle the dispute. The Soviet Union offered its good offices.

The center of the dispute is Kashmir, the Himalayan state both sides claim and which has been divided by a U.N. cease-fire line since 1949. The fighting broke out last week when, India charges, Pakistani troops crossed the cease-fire line and has since spread to border regions of India and Pakistan.

Shastri said he wants peace and President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan said India does not regard itself at war with Pakistan. But the government made claims that indicated India was very much at war.

In Rawalpindi, Pakistan's capital, a spokesman said Indian troops were beaten back on the Lahore front with heavy losses of men and tanks and were now fighting "a wholly defensive battle."

He asserted a Pakistani drive was well past Khem Karan, two miles inside India and 20 miles north of the Indian city of Ferozepore. India said Friday Pakistani shells fell on Ferozepore, 10 miles inside India, but the Pakistani spokesman made no mention of an advance on the city.

Pope Paul VI Issues Third Encyclical

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI, plunging into a new intense period of work with the resumption of the Vatican Ecumenical Council, Saturday reaffirmed Roman Catholic teaching on the Eucharist and urged prayers for his trip to the United States.

The Roman Catholic pontiff ended his six-week summer vacation with a flurry of activity.

—He made public the third encyclical letter of his reign. Entitled "Mysterium Fidei"—The Mystery of Faith—for its first two Latin words, it described new doctrinal opinions by some Roman Catholic theologians on the Eucharist as "a grave danger" for faith.

—After saying mass at a convent south of Rome, he asked prayers for his trip to New York Oct. 4 and for the success of his peace plea to the United Nations.

—He completed the formalities of saying goodbye to the staff at his summer residence at Castel Gandolfo, south of Rome, and prepared to return to the Vatican Sunday, two days before the Ecumenical Council opens its fourth and final session.

The Pope's encyclical—a major papal document addressed to the Roman Catholic clergy and faithful—upheld traditional Roman Catholic teaching that Jesus Christ is truly and substantially present in the consecrated bread and wine of the Eucharist at Mass.

He said faith is needed to accept this doctrine of "transubstantiation"—that the very substance of the bread and wine changes while their characteristics, or appearances, remain as before.

Pope Paul's encyclical was clearly a reply to some recent theological discussion in Belgium, Germany, Britain and especially Holland.

Warplanes Pound Cong Headquarters

1,000 VC May Be Trapped

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Striking out of low-hanging rain clouds, U.S. warplanes pounded the headquarters of a Viet Cong regiment in the jungles of the Mekong River Delta Saturday and apparently cut off escape routes.

U.S. officials in Saigon expressed belief 1,000 to 2,000 Viet Cong troops—including one long-hunted hard core battalion—might be trapped.

Heavy rains and 30 mile-an-hour winds stalled a South Vietnamese ground effort to move in against the guerrilla regiment.

A U.S. spokesman in Saigon said almost 100 air strikes were made against the guerrilla headquarters near Soc Trang on the Bach Nga Cai River by nightfall. Viet Cong casualties were believed to be heavy.

Associated Press photographer Horst Faas flew over the area, 150 miles southeast of Saigon, and reported the bombing attacks had blasted and burned away thick brush and jungle cover, exposing Viet Cong bunkers. He said escape routes from the headquarters area seemed to be cut off. U.S. aircraft and American advisers South Vietnamese ground troops had been hunting the Viet Cong regiment for weeks.

The hard U.S. air attack came after U.S. Army helicopters sighted and assaulted about 100 guerrillas believed to be part of the Viet Cong regiment. Poor weather conditions prevented the landing of government troops but air attacks were ordered.

The Viet Cong have long held out in the steaming jungles in the Mekong Delta and government action in that area has been picking up over the past few weeks. The area is laced with canals and rivers and swamps.

In other action, government troops wound up an operation in Quang Nam Province, 350 miles north of Saigon, and reported killing 104 guerrillas in a week of fighting. Government casualties were described as moderate.

Some units of the U.S. Marines that joined in Operation Piranha on the Batangan Peninsula during the week joined in the Quang Nam action Friday but made no major contact with the guerrillas, a U.S. spokesman said. The Marines had been airlifted from the peninsula where 198 Viet Cong were reported killed in a four-day action.

Hurricane Toll Mounts Rush Emergency Aid To Victims

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The full tragedy of Hurricane Betsy unfolded grimly Saturday as the death toll rose past 50 victims and damages soared into uncounted millions. Some authorities feared 150 to 200 lives may have been lost in New Orleans alone.

At President Johnson's command, Army and Navy forces joined weary, groggy Louisiana rescue squads in a desperate struggle to find and care for survivors of Betsy's onslaught.

A ragtag armada of boats worked in the area of gravest concern—along the Mississippi River and in an industrial canal east of New Orleans. A suburb of more than 3,000 homes was ravaged by flood waters from a broken levee.

The onrushing waters were a burial ground for men, women and children who failed to scramble fast enough to safety on roof tops and in trees early Friday when Betsy roared in from the gulf with 150 mile an hour winds.

Louisiana already counted 38 dead, most of them victims of flooding in New Orleans.

"We'll catch hell on Monday and Tuesday," said Dr. Nicholas Chetta, the Orleans Parish (County) coroner.

"At the rate we're going, the death toll will run between 150 to 200 persons," said Chetta.

The death toll, first believed low, rose rapidly as rescue boats pushed through the flooded areas. Chetta said bodies were spotted but not brought in at once. "The boat operators are mainly worried about the living right now, and rightly so," he said.

He explained that rescue teams in boats cruising the flooded areas can only tie up floating bodies to trees, rooftops and posts for recovery later after the living have been evacuated.

Only now, nearly 48 hours after Betsy swept past, did the magnitude of the disaster begin to emerge.

The mass evacuation of more than a quarter million people ahead of the storm kept the death count below that of past hurricanes. But the devastation and human misery which awed President Johnson on a personal inspection here Friday night was unmatched in Louisiana's storm-scarred history.

There was concern this damage figure might read $1 billion. The federal government rushed emergency help—men, food, medical supplies—to this beleaguered city.

"You ask for it and you'll get it," Robert Phillips of the Office of Emergency Planning told city officials. He spoke as President Johnson's personal representative.

The naval air station here opened old World War II buildings to house refugees who overflowed city shelters. The Army flew in field kitchens to help feed the swelling number of refugees.

Adding to the misery of the rescue workers and the victims was the threat of bites from deadly water moccasins—blown in from the bayous and swamps.

Much of New Orleans remained without electric power or telephone service late Saturday.

In addition to the dead in Louisiana, Betsy took seven lives in Florida, four in Arkansas and one in Mississippi.

Miss Kansas Is Crowned Miss America

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Deborah Bryant, a brown-haired beauty from Kansas, was named Miss America of 1966 Saturday night.

Miss Bryant, a 5-foot-7 Christian College beauty who will enter Kansas University as a junior this fall, won a swim suit preliminary in the pageant. She weighs 115 pounds and measures 36-23-36.

Deborah, who wants to become a pediatrician because of her love for children, hopes to enter Kansas University Medical School after graduation.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hurlie D. Bryant of Overland Park, Kan. In her spare time she writes fiction, swims and water skis.

Miss Kansas received a bouquet of pink roses and a robe was placed on her. Then she burst into tears, but regained her composure and began her stroll down the center aisle.

Runners-up in the contest, in order, were: Miss Mississippi, Patricia Puckett, 20, Columbus; Miss Indiana, Eileen Smith, 18, Indianapolis; Miss Florida, Carol Blum, 21, Miami Beach; Miss Wisconsin, Sharon Singstock, 20, Oshkosh.

As Deborah walked down the aisle she threw a kiss to the television audience.

She was joined on the stage by her mother. Her father could not be with her because he is in Viet Nam, working as a civilian engineer.

Asked whether she wanted to say anything to her subjects, Miss America replied, "No, they're not subjects. They're dear friends."

NO FUNERAL FOR FATHER DIVINE PHILADELPHIA (AP)—There will be no funeral for Father Divine, Negro cult leader, whom thousands revered as "God," it was announced Saturday.

Divine died Friday of a heart ailment at his palatial estate in suburban Gladwyne, which served as international headquarters for his religious movement. J. Austin Norris, his attorney, said Divine was about 100 years old.

Norris said the body would not be cremated, but the manner of its disposal had not been decided upon.

Santa Fe Trainmen Call Strike

CHICAGO (AP)—A sudden strike by trainmen halted or delayed trains early Saturday on about one-half of the Santa Fe Railway's massive system, but the workers returned to their jobs late in the day after President Johnson created a three-man emergency board.

A Santa Fe spokesman said the first crew had arrived at Dearborn Station in Chicago. The spokesman said the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen began calling workers back to their jobs immediately.

The President signed an executive order in Washington in the early evening creating the emergency board to investigate the dispute between the railway and the union.

The board, to be appointed by the President, will report its findings to Johnson within 30 days.

The executive order said the labor dispute threatened to "deprive a section of the country of essential transportation service."

Earlier, Santa Fe President Ernest S. Marsh said he expected the strikers would return to their jobs upon creation of such an emergency board.

The Santa Fe spokesman said the executive order requires both sides to resume the status quo pending an investigation.

A Santa Fe spokesman estimated that about 50 per cent of its main line routes were affected.

20,000 U.S. Troops Establish Beachhead

QUI NHON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. combat troops of the 1st Cavalry Division air mobile continued to pour ashore Sunday at this government-held area on the South China Sea.

The first group of 20,000 U.S. combat troops of the 1st Cavalry Division air mobile have landed at Qui Nhon on the South China Sea and established a beachhead.

The first of four aircraft carriers, six troop ships and ten cargo ships are standing off Qui Nhon's bay.

The first group of 20,000 men—"The Flying Horsemen Division"—have already established a base camp. One of the earlier arrivals last month, an Army major, was killed Aug. 17 but this was never officially announced.

The aircraft carrier Boxer arrived Friday and began unloading many of the 428 helicopters that the battle-ready 1st

Calvary Division will use. The division, headed by Maj. Gen. Harry Kinnard, came from Mayport, Fla., Aug. 15.

It has been described by U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara as an entirely new approach in the concept of land war.

Military experts say it is much more effective than a normal infantry division in the art of mobile defense in rough terrain, such as in South Viet Nam.

McNamara has said the division would exploit the "principle of surprise to an unprecedented degree" and be able to fight battles of movement. The division is capable of ranging swiftly to places where it is needed rather than be used as a security force to protect a fixed, static position.

Unlike U.S. Army ground units, the airborne division lacks organized armor and medium and heavy artillery.

Preparations for the arrival of the division have been under way for weeks in this coastal city 280 miles northeast of Saigon. Advance elements of the units landed several weeks ago.

U.S. military authorities have classified the destination of the division in South Viet Nam.

The air mobile division was ordered to Viet Nam by President Johnson July 28 as part of the announced U.S. buildup to 125,000 men.

More than 400 helicopters will be available to carry the division's paratroopers and infantrymen into combat. U.S. military planners believe the division's speed and maneuverability will prove ideal in fighting in the jungles.

The division formally came into existence July 1 under the designation 1st Cavalry Division (air mobile) after a study of three years authorized by McNamara. The air mobility concept underwent extensive tests at Ft. Benning.

STILL ARE STILLS CHICAGO (AP)—Bootleg liquor still is a problem for U.S. agents.

More than 7,800 individuals were arrested for violations of federal liquor laws during fiscal 1964.

The men are expected to be deployed in South Viet Nam's central highlands where U.S. forces are being progressively strengthened in the area. The performance of the 1st Cavalry Division is being watched closely by Army planners as they consider whether to create a second such force.

The carrier Boxer that sailed from Mayport, Fla., Aug. 15 was packed with helicopters ranging in size from the giant Flying Cranes that can lift 65 people, down to the small two-seater Sioux.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, visited Qui Nhon Sunday and met seven hundred soldiers, mainly helicopter mechanics, as they unloaded from the carriers to "Blue Beach" in Qui Nhon.

IFYE STUDENT—Pictured above are Miss Gilda Herrera, International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) and her host family, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Likes of Bluffs, R. R. 1. Miss Herrera is receiving her county money from Zone Steckel, Scott County 4-H Federation treasurer. The IFYE's receive $1 per day from a local group each day they are in this county. Student

Miss Gilda Herrera, International Farm Youth Exchange student, a 26-year-old Costa Rican from San Jose, arrived at the Dan Likes home of route one, Bluffs, where she will spend a month.

Prior to coming to the Likes home, Miss Herrera spent twelve weeks with host families in North Carolina. This will be her second host family in Illinois, and she will have two more visits in the state before returning to her country.

In Costa Rica, Gilda is a teacher of home education in a primary school. She has had six years of primary schooling and two years of secondary education.

In her school she teaches 140 students between the ages of 7 and 12. Back home, Miss Herrera lives on a 20 acre farm with her parents, six brothers and two sisters. The main crop on her home farm is sugar cane. They raise a few chickens.

Spanish is the language spoken in Costa Rica and Gilda has not studied English.

Family Knows Language Fortunately, Brenda, the oldest Likes girl, has had two years of Spanish and can serve as interpreter. Gilda has picked up a little English on her own and it is possible to communicate with her slowly.

She has belonged to the Costa Rican organization that is similar to the American 4-H group—the 4-S club. Her hobbies are music, dancing and sketching.

The IFYE is a 4-H program, conducted by the National 4-H Foundation in behalf of the Cooperative Extension Service. Young men and women of the United States are exchanged with young people from other parts of the world for four to six months.

They "learn another way of life by living it," in homes, schools and institutions in foreign lands.

In the 18 years of existence, the IFYE program has reached 67 countries and over 3,000 young people have participated in the two-way exchange. Hosting these exchanges have been 25,000 enthusiastic host families.

Scott County has participated in the program for seven years and Miss Herrera is the fifth IFYE to visit the county.

Families hosting the IFYEs in addition to the Likes family, are the Raymond Spanglers, the Glenn Sievers, the Robert Worrells and the Herman Flynn.

WHAT'S ELECTROLYSIS?

There are few things more embarrassing to a woman than a patch of unwanted hair on her face. A superfluous growth of hair on her upper lip or on her cheek usually causes extreme self-consciousness and unhappiness.

The hair can be removed several ways. It can be shaved off, erased by a depilatory, abrasive or waxing, or removed by tweezing. However, all of these methods are temporary and must be repeated frequently to keep the hair under control. There is only one permanent way of doing the job and that's by electrolysis.

In electrolysis the papilla, which is source of the hair's life, is destroyed thus killing hair's growth.

The latest method of electrolysis that has been perfected is called thermolysis, it operates via a short wave machine, the principle of which is to coagulate the hair papilla by high frequency current.

Phyllis Diller's birthday boy Fang gets Manhattan "Dura-Wite!" men's shirts of 65% Kodol® — 35% cotton

"Take it from me, sweetie... these guaranteed-whiter "Dura-Wite!" shirts are sensationsville! Like, they simply will not turn dingy or yellow no matter how many times I wash 'em. Wash 'n wear, too, with no ironing at all. "Dura-Wite!" stays smooth and fresh and wrinkle free on Fang, to boot. The whole bit has something to do with Kodol Type IV polyester fibers, which is a big fat mystery to me, but keeps this shirt white for good. It's so great, Manhattan® puts the "Dura-Wite!" guarantee in writing. Your husband will die "Dura-Wite!" on sight. So why wait for a birthday?"

NICHOLS PARK LADIES DAY GOLF NEWS

Well, the season for Nichols Park Ladies Day Golf is almost over. We have just one more Tuesday, and then our dinner. It has been a rather odd year at the park. The regular Nichols Park ladies did not show up this year, with the exception of a few.

We had more ladies from the Jacksonville Country Club than ladies from the regular Nichols Park group. For this I am sorry, we did miss them, and we could have had a real nice summer if they would have come on out. The reason did not come out?—I really don't know, but they were most likely involved in other things.

As I said before, this coming Tuesday will be the last ladies day at Nichols Park for this year. The dinner will be held at the Holiday Inn, Monday night, September 20th at 6:30 p.m. If you haven't signed the reservation sheet out at the Pro Shop and would like to go, please call me or Alpha Whitman or Marge Howard, we would be happy to have you. Just because you haven't played golf with us this summer doesn't stop you from coming to the dinner. Call and make a reservation.

The play last Tuesday was low gross and Bingo-Bongo-Bongo. There were very few out and the winners were:

Low gross—1st flight—Helen Little.

Points — 1st flight — Fran Chumley.

Low gross — 2nd flight — Peggy Taylor.

Points — 2nd flight — Ruth Jean Cisne.

Don't forget, dinner, Holiday Inn, Sept. 20th. Call and tell us you will be there.

See you there.

WANTED BY THE FBI

ALSON THOMAS WAHRlich

Wahrlich, one of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives," is wanted for unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for the crime of kidnapping. He allegedly abducted a 6-year-old Arizona girl in Tucson, Arizona, on April 16, 1964, and brutally beat, choked, and sexually molested her before leaving her abandoned in the same city. A Federal warrant was issued at Tucson on April 28, 1964, charging Wahrlich with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for this offense.

A white American, Wahrlich was born in Rensselaer County, New York, on February 4, 1936. He is 5' 2" tall, weighs 185 to 190 pounds, wears glasses, has blue eyes, brown hair, a medium build and a medium complexion. He has a scar on his left shoulder, a vaccination scar on his left arm, a scar on each side of his abdomen, and a tattoo of a heart and the name "Cindy" on his left arm.

Wahrlich has worked as a truck driver, ranch worker, dishwasher, house trailer repairman, hospital orderly, insurance salesman, and ice cream truck vendor. He is very interested in guns and strongly prefers traveling by personally owned car. Wahrlich reportedly has mental blackouts, has been previously imprisoned for aggravated assault, child molesting, and a crime against nature. He reportedly is armed with a pistol and is said to carry a surgical scalpel in his trouser's pocket. Consider him armed and extremely dangerous.

Should you receive any information concerning the whereabouts of Alson Thomas Wahrlich, you are requested to immediately notify the nearest office of the FBI, the telephone number of which may be located on the first page of local telephone directories.

Reading Awards For Area Children At Public Library

An eager crowd of young "moon voyagers" met Saturday morning in the Children's Room of the Jacksonville Public Library to receive their diplomas as awards for their participation in the summer reading game under the supervision of Miss Esther Conner, children's librarian.

The Children's Department was a popular and busy place during the summer for those seeking reading pleasure. Among the many readers, 243 joined in the reading game; and of these, 134 received certificates because they read ten books or more. In the latter group, there were about the same number of boys and girls.

Each child, aspiring to "blast off to the moon", read a book to get his own paper cut-out astronaut which he placed on a space station located in a map of outer space upon a table in the middle of the room. The astronaut figure progressed along the space platforms according to the number of books read and reported. When ten books were read, a gold star was pasted on the paper astronaut; also, beside the child's name on the list of astronauts posted on the door.

The following children had five stars: Gail Bradley and Sally Ann Quinn. In the four star group were: Terrie Jones, Christopher Keller, Paul Keller, Jennifer Norris, Cheri Northrop and Marybeth Pavlick.

It almost seems a shame to put a Volkswagen engine in it.

The Karmann Ghia isn't designed for the masses. Nor is it built like a mass-production car.

Fenders, hoods and door frames still get hand-welded, hand-shaped and hand-smoothed. Convertible tops are still padded by hand.

The Ghia's paint job is even four coats deep in hand work.

So here you've got this gorgeous hunk of car, but when you get right down to basics, it's still a Volkswagen.

Chassis, transmission and suspension are all Volkswagen.

And so is the engine.

In fact, the Ghia's power comes from the very same air-cooled motor that pushed our regular stubby-nosed VW to fame.

Driving the Ghia may put you a cut above a Volkswagen.

But you don't cut out any of the economy.

Murrayville-Waverly Pipeline Under Construction

$100,000 Per Mile Project

The Panhandle Eastern Natural Gas Company is building a pipeline between Murrayville and Waverly at a cost of over $100,000 a mile. The 19 mile section of 30-inch high pressure line will increase the volume of gas for immediate and potential consumers in the area.

Sections of pipeline like this one are being constructed at many points along Panhandle's completed third line.

When this job is completed the construction crews will move to Peoria to build a 15 mile section and then to Lincoln for a 10 mile run. These short sections are called loops and are connected at each end to pressure stations. They run parallel to the last complete line.

Russell Summers of Route 2 Murrayville says he worked on the first of these three completed lines in 1931. Summers says the method of welding the line together and crossing highways and railroads have changed greatly. When he worked on the 24 inch line in '31, highway tunneling had to be done with picks and shovels. Two or three sections of pipe were welded together and placed in the trenches; now the entire line is welded together before it is put in place. Highways and railroads are now crossed by drilling a 36 inch hole from one side to the other and leaving a casing that is pulled through by an auger.

Panhandle Eastern pays property holders $1.50 a rod for all of the land they have to cross; plus damages for any crops and pastures. A 66 foot wide area is needed for construction. The Company prohibits landowners from building over or within a certain number of feet from the lines. Earl Wright of Route 2 Murrayville says payment for damages has always been adequate; but not being able to build over the lines has its disadvantages.

Cape Construction from Cape Girardeau, Missouri and Cox Construction of Raytown, Missouri, are charged with building the new pipeline. Cape Construction clears the right of way, digs the trenches, and lays the pipe. Cox is in charge of hauling the 40 foot sections of pipe from the railroad depot at Murrayville and distributing them, end to end, beside the finished ditch. Heavy Catapillars are used to lift the sections so wooden blocks can be put underneath to align the pipe for welding. After all pipe is welded together it is cleaned with wire brushes mounted in two separate headers that encircle the pipe and rotate in opposite directions, followed by the primer which smooths tar onto the cleaned surface. Immediately after, the tar-covered surface is wrapped with tar-saturated felt 18 inches wide. Herbert Austin, operator of the cleaner and primer says 6000 ft. can be readied in one day. The pipe is then ready to be lowered into position and covered with no less than 30 inches of soil.

Lewis Wiist who in charge of office of Cape Construction says the firm pays $60,000 a week in wages. The project between Murrayville and Waverly was scheduled for completion within three weeks after starting but rainy weather has shortened the ten to twelve hour days and the seven day weeks.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market last week encountered the frequently critical post-Labor Day atmosphere and emerged with its third straight weekly advance.

The rise was accomplished in spite of weakness by the leading steels which were affected by worries concerning the possibility of a cost-price squeeze as a result of the strike-averting steel labor agreement. As the week went on, however, the thought became more prevalent that there would be selective price increases in steel which might save the industry's profit margins.

The market's advance was due chiefly to selective strength among blue chips. General Motors gave the list powerful leadership by carving out a net gain of 4 1/2 points at 104 1/2.

The over-all rise, however, was a mixture of solid investment buying in blue chips and more adventurous speculation in secondary issues, many of them in the defense-related electronics field or else with such temptingly low price-earnings ratios that they attracted traders.

The Dow Jones industrial average this week rose 10.98 to 918.95.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 1.7 to 338.3.

Volume for the week totaled 26,130,630 shares compared with 27,984,081 the previous week which was a full, five-day trading week. Labor Day cut the past trading week to four days. The market rose every day. By Friday it had strung together seven straight daily gains.

Softness in steels was a handicap every day except Friday when most of the major steel-makers either held their ground or edged upward slightly.

U.S. Treasury bond prices sagged as investors continued to keep on the sidelines because of international tensions. Prices in other bond markets were mixed.

On the New York Stock Exchange, corporate bond volume totaled a par value of $49.95 million, compared with $65.3 million the previous week.

Of 425 issues traded during the week, 163 advanced in price, 159 declined and 103 were unchanged.

Conflict May Slow Passage Of Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., said Saturday the Senate may be asked to delay action on the House-passed $3.2-billion foreign aid money bill to await developments in the India-Pakistan conflict.

The Senate Republican leader said that while the Senate Appropriations Committee probably will finish work on the bill soon, he does not expect it to be brought up "until we can see a little better what's likely to happen" in the Asian war.

The committee failed to raise a quorum Friday and postponed final action on the measure until Monday.

Before the appropriations group meets in mid-afternoon, Secretary of State Dean Rusk is to appear at a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to report on the Southeast Asia situation. His review will cover the India-Pakistan fighting and developments in Viet Nam.

House Republicans tried unsuccessfully to write into the bill a ban on economic and military aid to India and Pakistan. This was rejected by a vote after administration spokesmen pointed out that such a provision would prevent the United States from giving military equipment to India if Communist China repeats its 1962 invasion.

The United States has an agreement to give military assistance if India is attacked by any Communists. The Republican ban on arms aid would have applied to any country receiving such aid that moved militarily against another recipient of U.S. assistance.

Dirksen did not indicate that Senate Republicans will revive the aid ban beaten in the House. But he said in an interview that the India-Pakistan conflict is certain to be discussed at a Tuesday meeting of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon will report at that closed session on his recent swing through Asia during which he talked with high officials in each of several countries he visited.

Jacks Look Promising In Workout

Seniors Larry Angelo and Roger Patterson were elected football captains for Jacksonville High this season, after practice Saturday morning. Angelo, returning regular fullback, and Patterson, veteran guard, were chosen by their teammates.

The light workout Saturday morning followed a game-type scrimmage under the lights Friday evening with the varsity first team playing the second squad.

"We wanted our quarterbacks to get used to the yard markers and chains and them all to get used to the lights," commented coach Bob Kraushaar.

Junior Rich Coble quarterbacked the first unit, which scored four times, while junior Danny Brooks commanded the second team. "I thought both looked satisfactory in the scrimmage," said Brooks.

Kraushaar was impressed with the varsity line, as they held the second unit scoreless and to only one or two first downs during the scrimmage.

Other standouts were Angelo and junior halfback Abe Brown on offense. Kraushaar also praised the running of Joe Wilkerson and Larry Norrup at halfbacks. Halfback Harry Goller was sick and did not make the practice.

No Line Standouts

"There was not one standout in the line. I thought they played some good defense though," said Kraushaar. "We have good depth at guard and tackle in the line, but the ends and center are still questionable."

The Crimson boss has several players working at center, and finds none outstanding. He worked Steve Tavender and Wes Hillgoss as first unit ends Friday, with Joe Gibson, Dave Marshall, John Long and Chip Sutphen also seeing action.

According to Kraushaar the Crimsons are improving noticeably with practice, but they will have their hands full next Friday night when they open at Decatur Eisenhower in a Capitol Conference test.

Jacksonville handed Eisenhower one of its two losses last year, a 13-6 defeat, enroute to a perfect 9-0 gridiron campaign. The Panthers have both tackles from that team back, weighing 238 and 230, plus a tough 210-pound center, one of the regular guards, and one regular halfback along with the second string quarterback.

Larry Cook, a 6-1, 190-pound junior tackle, has drawn Kraushaar's eye at recent practices. A total of eight or nine backs are still fairly un-separated as to first team starters, with all probably seeing first-game action.

While half of the line is still undecided, Kraushaar has settled on likely starters at the tackles and guards. They are 198-pound Roger Zulaw and 215-pound Mike Matijevich at the tackles, and Roger Patterson and either Dan Kinsell or Gerald Stewart at guards.

Routt Needs Experience For Success

Routt coach Mike Kennedy sees "the first quarter of our first game" as probably the determining factor for the Rockets' grid success this year.

"It all depends on how well we can do, and how much experience we can pick up early. If we do well I believe we could have a 500 season," says Kennedy.

"The elements of a good team are there at present. If we can pick up some experience in a hurry, we could be in good shape."

On paper the Rockets are in for a long season. They list only four returning lettermen from 1964, and one of those will be out at least until midseason recovering from a recent appendectomy.

But a crop of inexperienced underclassmen are coming along to the point where it looks like all they need is some varsity game time under their belts. The newcomers pack good size, as shown in what Kennedy points to as the probable starters.

"We have at least jelled into a team since practice started," says Kennedy. "We have about 20 boys out of the squad of 30 who will be playing a lot of ball."

Line May Be Problem

Kennedy sees the middle of the line as a possible weak spot for the Rocket offense against an experienced Calhoun squad next Friday night.

Kennedy plans to use an experienced junior, 220-pound Greg Pennell, there on defense, but adds that he hits surprisingly well for an inexperienced man.

John Levins, one of the three lettermen, is a 165-pounder but rates as a top lineman. He will probably not be in the line on defense.

Two players who will probably see a lot of action for the Rockets, Don Beely and Jim Kaufmann, both promising linebackers, will probably miss the first game because of injuries. Kaufmann suffered a torn ligament in his left knee, and Beely has a neck sprain.

Kennedy has what he feels will be the boys to carry the load picked out. At ends he will run Dick Zeller, letterman and co-captain John Zeller, Mike Sheehan and David Welch, all inexperienced except Zeller.

At tackles he has Greg Yording, Pennell, Jim Hepworth and Charley Blesse, the smallest at 170 pounds. At guards it will be sophomore Paul Lambert, Ken McGinnis, Jim Duncan and 185-pound freshman Jim Loneragan. Levins and Jim Cisne will handle the center spot.

The starting backfield will be completely untried in varsity game competition. The two halfback spots will be split between Dave Gears, Danny Welch and Larry Taylor. Taylor is the only one with any experience at all. Speedster Rick English is the fullback, with senior Tom Murgatroy slated to open at quarterback. Letterman Mike Fitzpatrick and Bill Imboden will back up Murgatroy.

Nebraska AP Choice In College

A panel of 46 sports writers and broadcasters has chosen Nebraska as the top team in the country in The Associated Press' annual preseason college football poll.

The Cornhuskers, who won their first nine games last season but then dropped their last regular season game against Oklahoma and were beaten by Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl, received 11 first place votes and a total of 311 points.

Alabama, the defending National Champion, and Arkansas, No. 2 finisher last year, dipped to fifth and sixth in the poll. Alabama received four first place votes and Arkansas six. Both were undefeated last year but the experts apparently feel that graduation losses will cost them.

Alabama lost quarterback Joe Namath, while Arkansas will have only three men returning to the defensive unit that chalked up five straight shutouts at the end of last season.

Texas, 9-1 and winner over Alabama in the Orange Bowl last year, is picked for second place.

The Longhorns were named first in seven ballots and received 292 points, 10 more than Notre Dame, which was placed third.

The Irish will have to find a replacement for the John Huarte-Jack Snow passing show that helped Arpaugh's club average 28.7 points per game last year. The experts apparently think he can do it and part of the answer could be veteran running backs Nick Eddy and Bill Wolski.

Michigan, with five first place ballots and 277 points, was fourth in the voting although it lost All America Bob Timberlake and a host of other stars.

The Top Ten, with first place votes and last year's records in parentheses:

1. Nebraska (11)
2. Texas (7)
3. Notre Dame (7)
4. Michigan (5)
5. Alabama (4)
6. Arkansas (6)
7. So. California (4)

Ford, Yankees Drop White Sox 9 Games Back 3-1

CHICAGO (AP) — Veteran southpaw Whitey Ford tied Red Ruffing as the New York Yankees' all-time winning pitcher Saturday night with a 3-1 victory over the skidding Chicago White Sox, who lost their fifth in a row.

The defeat dropped the White Sox nine games behind American League leading Minnesota. The victory was the 15th of the season for Ford and the 231st of his 14-year major league career, all with the Yankees. Ruffing also won 231 games as a Yankee.

Joe Pepitone led the Yankee assault against loner Bruce Howard. Pepitone singled in a run in the first and also delivered a run-scoring single in the third when the Yankees rallied for two more runs.

Correct Falldown

The rugged, methodical Packers corrected a major falldown of last year—Paul Hornung's placekicking—by getting Don Chandler from the Giants. They've added to their riches with seasoned pass catcher Carroll Dale and have an apparent ace in defensive back Tom Brown, ex-baseballer.

Minnesota is given a solid shot in the West, with Fran Tarkenton, that scrambling man, star runners Tommy Mason and Bill Brown, a nifty crop of receivers, and veterans acquired to strengthen several spots.

The Los Angeles Rams have built up with added personnel, particularly at linebacker. George Mira's quarterbacking should perk up the San Francisco 49ers. Joe Don Looney, if he concentrates on football, is bound to boost the Detroit Lions with his bruising running. And rookie Dick Butkus at linebacker and Gayle Sayers at running back of the Chicago Bears seem headed for top stardom.

But the West's upper echelon undoubtedly is out of reach for these four clubs.

Experienced Tigers Lack Size, Speed

Many of the PMSC conference coaches look for the ISD Tigers to be a title threat this season, but if they prove to be they will probably be the smallest team near the top.

The Tigers of coach Jim Bonds have plenty of experience on their underclassman-laden squad, but are definitely lacking in size, both in the line and backfield.

Along with the lack of size the Tigers admittedly lack overall speed. "Our heaviest starter weighs about 170 right now, if he doesn't lose a anymore weight," says Bonds. "We are in better shape than when we started practice, but we will suffer from our lack of size, and we don't have near as much speed as last season."

The Tigers will get a stern test next Friday night when they visit an expected strong Winchester outfit that is stuffed with both size and experience. The Wildcats of the Illinois Valley conference whipped the Tigers by two touchdowns last year, scoring all three TDs in the second quarter.

The westsiders have ten lettermen back this season, but only five seniors. The lack of seniors appears to be no problem as the mainly sophomore and junior squad comes off two straight outstanding frosh-soph campaigns. The yearling Tigers lost only once last year and went undefeated the year before.

Still Undecided

Two positions in the Tiger backfield are still undecided. Danny Curtis, sophomore Jesse Joyner and Ray Richardson are tangle for the halfback slots. Richardson was a top Tiger runner and scorer at quarterback in 1964.

Last season's fullback Jim Weddle and junior Ron Dodd are the likeliest at that position, while junior Harry Bloomgren will man the quarterback spot. Bonds points to a pair of veteran linemen as the most outstanding in practice thus far. "Both Robert Mow (right guard) and Larry Marousek (170-pound tackle) have looked real well so far," says Bonds.

Bonds points to Danny George and Ron Nuzzo, both juniors but with varsity experience, as his probable ends. The tackles appear now to be Walter Eymann and Marousek.

The guard spots and center are still a toss-up. Mow, Jim LeGrande, Wally Harmsch, Mike Ballinger, Bill Baxter and Gary Shaw are all battling for the guard and center spots, with co-captain Shaw having one of them nailed down. All are working at both positions.

Brown's Homer Lifts Detroit Past Tribe, 5-3

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gates Brown's three-run homer in the third inning got the Detroit Tigers off to a lead they never gave up Saturday as they defeated the Cleveland Indians 5-3.

Brown's home run, his seventh, came off starter and loser Luis Tiant, 11-10, with two out and Joe Sparna and Jerry Lumpe on base via singles.

The Tigers added two more runs before the third inning ended. After Al Kaline walked and Norm Cash singled, Floyd Weaver replaced Tiant and yielded run-producing singles to Don Wert and Bill Freehan.

Flag-Bound Twins Crush Boston, 8-4

BOSTON (AP) — The Minnesota Twins' pennant-bound express picked up added steam Saturday as Camilo Pascual turned in a strong pitching performance in an 8-4 romp over the Boston Red Sox.

The Twins' fourth straight victory boosted their American League lead to nine games over Baltimore and Chicago and reduced their magic pennant-clinching number to 10.

Any combination of Minnesota victories and losses by the other contenders totaling 10 will give the Twins the pennant.

Pascual, a 31-year-old right-hander, served notice he is returning to form in his second start since undergoing surgery for torn muscles near his right shoulder Aug. 2. He went 7 1/3 innings, allowing five hits.

The Twins, feasting on their Boston cousins in chummy Fenway Park, raked four Red Sox pitchers for 17 hits, including four by Jimmie Hall and three each by Tony Oliva and Zoilo Versalles.

Minnesota added insult to injury by stealing five bases, including a pair apiece by Hall and Versalles.

Pascual boosted his record to 9-3 with his first victory since June 8. Boston rookie Jim Lonborg took the loss, and is 9-16. Minnesota 102 210 020—8 17 1

Fregosi Sparks 6-5 Angels' Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jim Fregosi drove in two runs with an opposite-field double in the eighth inning and scored the winning run on a fielder's choice as the California Angels nipped the Washington Senators 6-5 Saturday.

Pinch hitter Al Spangler beat out an infield hit, opening the eighth and Charley Desing singled down the third-base line. Fregosi scored both with a double, tying the game 5-5. He moved to third on the throw to the plate and scored on Willie Smith's infield out.

Jim King had put the Senators ahead 5-3, in the seventh with a three-run pinch homer, scoring behind Don Lock, who singled, and Ed Brinkman, who walked. Aubrey Gatewood was the winner and Jim Hannan, recalled from Hawaii this week, was the loser.

FLYING GIANT: Exhibiting the huge reservoir of size the Illinois College Blueboys have this grid season is co-captain Jim Cox. This three-year letterman senior tackle from Bluffs stands 6-4 and weighs 235. The Blueboys are able to field a six-man line that averages well over 230 pounds, and an average 188 1/2 pounds per man on the 51-member squad. IC opens at Eureka next Saturday afternoon.

IC Eleven Has Size, Veterans

Line Should Be One Of Strongest

By BUFORD GREEN

Illinois College has one of its biggest squads ever, both in number and size, this season, as the Blueboys strive for their fifth straight season of .500 ball or better.

A total of 51 candidates reported out to coach Joe Brooks last week, including 23 from last year's squad with 16 lettermen included in that number.

This is the largest team IC has had since 1950, and the biggest since Brooks took over as head coach of the Blueboys. An idea of how large the Blueboys are can be noted from the fact that the average weight of all 51 squad members totals 188 1/2 pounds.

Brooks sees the biggest Blueboy drawback coming in the lack of size and speed in the backfield. The line will be extra large, and will have plenty of depth at each spot.

The backfield will average only about 165-pounds per man, but all the linemen are over 200 pounds. A rash of newcomers, freshmen and transfer students, gives the Blueboys plenty of depth in the line.

Brooks has two-year veteran Bucky Sullivan of Jacksonville back at quarterback, along with letterman junior Bud Lawrence of Lincoln. Both are small, about 160 pounds, but know the Blueboy offense well. A newcomer, 165-pound transfer from Industry, Phil Snowden, has drawn Brooks' praise in practice thus far, and stands a good chance to see plenty of playing time.

There are actually only two experienced halfbacks on the Blueboy squad. Brooks expects great things in 165-pound sophomore Tom Rowland, Rushville, who last year came along in fine style the second half of the season. Senior co-captain Bill Bien, usually a defensive specialist, will do some running this year, and is the biggest halfback at 175 pounds.

Seven Other Candidates

From there the Blueboys have to find halfbacks from seven others who have little or no experience and who are all about 150-60 pounds. They include John Leuchentel, Springfield, who was an outstanding linebacker as a freshman and who will also play defensive half this year; 175-pound soph Jerry Sapp from Bluffs, a top blocker who lettered as defensive safety; Winchester freshman Roger Spencer; freshman Roger Camo from Astoria; Jim Schider, Red Oak; Richard Hilder who played at JHS; Dick Midkiff, Carrollton; and Greg Malerich from Lincoln.

The fullback spot is another where the Blueboys could use some more size. Top returnee is veteran Jim Malerich, Lincoln, a 170-pound senior. Also running at fullback are Don Nelson, 181-pound from Springfield.

Giants Run String To 8 Straight, 6-4

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie McCovey, with a three-run homer and a double, and Jim Hart sparked the National League-leading San Francisco Giants to their eighth straight victory Saturday, a 6-4 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

The triumph increased the Giants' lead to one game over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who played Houston at night. McCovey, who hit a grand slam homer Friday night, put the Giants ahead to stay with a three-run blast in the first inning off starter Bill Paul. The blow followed a walk to Jesus Alou and Willie Mays' single.

McCovey also led off the fourth inning with a double and came all the way home when Paul grabbed Hart's infield single and threw it past first. Hart reached third on the error and scored on Paul's wild pitch.

After Ron Santo made it close with a three-run homer in the sixth, the Giants added an insurance run in their half of the inning when Mays singled and Hart doubled him home.

Giants relievers Masanori Murakami and Gaylord Perry pitched out of jams in the seventh and eighth innings.

The Cubs loaded the bases with two out in the seventh, but Murakami ended the threat by getting Beckert on a pop up.

Williams and Santo singled with none out in the eighth, bringing on Perry. He runners advanced on a wild pitch, but Perry retired the next three batters.

Six Teams Seen As NFL Threats

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer Cleveland, St. Louis, Green Bay and Baltimore appear the teams to beat as the National Football League heads into its 46th season.

And Minnesota and Washington appear to be teams that can do the beating.

Firing begins in earnest for the NFL's 14 clubs Sunday, when the 14-week, 98-game schedule opens with seven games.

Top attractions are the Minnesota Vikings vs. the Colts at Baltimore, the Cleveland Browns against the Redskins at Washington, the Green Bay Packers against the Steelers at Pittsburgh and the St. Louis Cardinals against the Eagles at Philadelphia.

Also on the slate are Los Angeles at Detroit, New York at Dallas and Chicago at San Francisco.

Pro football continues an ever-burgeoning entertainment and 1965 should be another lush year for the NFL. The league drew an astonishing 4.5 million cash customers last year and it's possible that's the saturation point. But it's also as possible it will be surpassed this fall.

Additionally, each club will be enriched by a bit over $1 million for television rights in this second final year of the contract with CBS.

Warfield Missing
Jim Brown, the fullback nonpareil, and Frank Ryan, the erudite quarterback, lead the defending league champion Browns against the steadily improving Redskins. Cleveland will be without its injured pass-catching flash, Paul Warfield, but helped itself in the defensive secondary with the addition of Erich Barnes, late of the Giants, in the recent three-club trade.

Quarterback Sonny Jurgensen, receiver Bobby Mitchell and halfback Charley Taylor spark the attack for Washington — a team solid enough all-around to be rated a challenger in the Eastern Division.

St. Louis' Cardinals almost made the top last year and rank in most quarters today as Eastern co-favorites with the Browns. They should be better with two 1964 casualties, runner Bill Triplet and pass catcher Sonny Randle, restored to starting roles.

The Dallas Cowboys are coming, but present potential chinks. Don Meredith needs a big year at quarterback, for example, and the running game must pick up.

New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh seem destined to be Eastern also-rans. Baltimore, defending Western champion, and powerful Green Bay are a toss-up for that division's title. The Colts, of course, are steered by blue ribbon quarterback Johnny Unitas—who is enough to make a threat of any pro team.

Correct Falldown
The rugged, methodical Packers corrected a major falldown of last year—Paul Hornung's placekicking—by getting Don Chandler from the Giants. They've added to their riches with seasoned pass catcher Carroll Dale and have an apparent ace in defensive back Tom Brown, ex-baseballer.

Minnesota is given a solid shot in the West, with Fran Tarkenton, that scrambling man, star runners Tommy Mason and Bill Brown, a nifty crop of receivers, and veterans acquired to strengthen several spots.

But the West's upper echelon undoubtedly is out of reach for these four clubs.

A MOST ACTIVE MAN

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — Bill Berrier, 27-year-old outfielder with the Texas League's Albuquerque Dodgers, is also the dean of men at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Berrier also is head wrestling coach and assistant football coach at Juniata during the off season.

He has been in the Los Angeles Dodgers organization since signing a bonus contract in 1960. He has been with Albuquerque since 1963. That year he batted .286. In 1964, Berrier hit .297.

While attending Juniata, Berrier was a halfback for three years.

Cloninger One-Hits Mets For 21st, 9-0

NEW YORK (AP) — Tony Cloninger allowed only one hit — Cleon Jones' pinch hit single in the fifth inning — and drove in three runs as the Milwaukee Braves handed the New York Mets their eighth straight defeat 9-0 Saturday.

The victory kept the fourth-place Braves 2½ games behind the National League-leading San Francisco Giants, who defeated Chicago 6-4.

Cloninger gained his 21st victory against nine defeats in pitching the Braves' second one-hitter against the Mets in less than 24 hours. In Milwaukee's 3-1 triumph Friday night, Wade Blasingame, Billy O'Dell and Phil Niekro combined to hold New York to one hit.

Cloninger already had a 3-0 lead when he got into the hitting act himself in the second inning. Following Sandy Alomar's lead-off single, the 25-year-old right-hander unloaded his first major league home run off starter Al Jackson, who suffered his 19th defeat against seven victories.

Alomar tripled in the sixth inning and raced home on Cloninger's squeeze bunt.

The loss was the 100th of the season for the Mets, who now have reached that undesirable plateau in all of their four seasons of existence.

Young British Pose Big Threat In US Amateur

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A bevy of Britishers, led by a couple of fresh faced youngsters who play like Americans, pose a strong foreign threat in the U.S. Amateur Golf Championship starting Wednesday.

Olive Clark, 20, and Peter Townsend, who will turn 19 this week, paced the British to a surprising tie in the Walker Cup matches at Baltimore last weekend and rank as two of the biggest challengers to the title held by William C. Campbell, Huntington, W. Va.

"They play like Americans," one U.S. Golf Association official said. "They hit the ball a mile and play it bold. They putt like Americans. They're aggressive."

The 65th championship will be at medal rather than match play for the first time. The field of 150 will play rounds of 18 holes each Wednesday and Thursday over the 6,917 yard, par 35-36-71 Southern Hills Country Club. The field will be cut to the low 60 and ties after Thursday's second round for the final 20-hole rounds Friday and Saturday.

"It's one of the most beautiful courses I've ever seen," said Billy Joe Patton, Morgantown, N.C., a veteran U.S. amateur and Walker Cupper. "It's in gorgeous shape."

Patton is one of only 18 players who are exempt from sectional qualifying. The others were the remaining nine members of the U.S. Walker Cup team, which had to put together a remarkable comeback to salvage a tie with the British last week, and eight of the 10 British Walker Cuppers.

Buckpasser Slim Winner Of Rich Futurity Trial

CHICAGO (AP) — Buckpasser, the 4-5 favorite, won the $335,475 Arlington-Washington Futurity — billed as the world's richest thoroughbred horse race — by about one-half length over fast-closing Father's Image at Arlington Park Saturday.

Buckpasser, owned by Ogden Phillips of Wheatley Hills, Long Island, N.Y., and ridden by Brouillette, captured the lead at the eighth pole only to have Father's Image, a 23-1 shot, drive up steadily and nearly nip him at the wire.

The field of seven furlongs was 1:23, compared to the track mark of 1:21.

Demon Dyno was third and Or Michael fourth in a field of 10 juveniles.

Buckpasser, son of the great Tom Fool, won his eighth straight race after losing his initial start.

He paid $3.60, $3 and $2.60 to backers in a crowd of 30,347.

Father's Image, owned by John M. Olin of Alton, Ill., and ridden by Ray Broussard, returned $11.20 and $7 while Arnold Hanger's Demon Dyno was $5.20 to show.

It was the fifth stakes triumph for Buckpasser and a giant stride toward juvenile championship honors and enriched his owner by $190,475.

It kicked his winnings to $375,351.

Player Grabs Lead After First Round

Akron, Ohio (AP) — Gary Player, the well-rested U. S. Open champion, put on a late charge Saturday to grab the first round lead in the $77,500 World Series of Golf.

Player, who hasn't played competitive golf for three weeks, fell behind Masters champion Jack Nicklaus in the early going, pulled into a tie with a birdie on No. 12 and took the lead with another birdie on No. 17 when he dropped a three-foot putt and finished with a 37-33-70 to match par.

Nicklaus was one stroke behind the black-clad South African with a 36-35-71. British Open champion Peter Thomson collected successive birdies on the 16th and 17th holes to remain in contention with a 38-35-73.

The loser was Tracy Stallard, who had a 38-36-74, four shots off the lead.

Covington Homer Tips Cardinals 3-1

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wes Covington's 14th homer capped a three-run sixth inning as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated St. Louis 3-1 Saturday night behind the seven-hit pitching of Chris Short.

Covington's blast over the right field wall also scored Johnny Callison whose double had brought home Rich Allen with the Phils' first run.

Allen was robbed of a homer when his smash into right hit the top of the fence and bounded back onto the field for a triple.

Short gave up a third inning homer to Curt Flood in gaining his 17th victory against nine losses. He struck out nine, including the side in the eighth on 10 pitches.

The loser was Tracy Stallard, now 10-7.

College Grid Squads Ready To Open Season

By BOB HOOBING
Boston Herald

For The Associated Press

Nebraska's brawn, a schedule of outstanding games on Oct. 16 and the Alabama-Louisiana State meeting on Nov. 6 appear as the keys to the 1965 season, as college football starts hitting on all platoons this week.

Defending national champion Alabama, representing the Southeastern Conference which has produced four of the last eight titlists, bumps into Georgia's Sun Bowl kings Saturday.

Big, brawny Nebraska has about the best chance of any challenger to unsettle Alabama — if the Crimson Tide will budge. The Cornhuskers open at home against Texas Christian.

Other feature games include Notre Dame at California, Texas A&M at LSU at Miami of Ohio at Purdue Penn State at Maryland, Kentucky at Missouri, Oklahoma State at Arkansas, Army at Tennessee and Duke at Virginia.

Coch Bob Devaney of Nebraska says: "We should be improved, offensively and defensively, but that's not enough to indicate we're national title material."

The facts are the Huskers have 26 lettermen — 16 of the top 22 — from the sixth-ranked, two-time Big Eight champs who won nine straight in '64 before being upset by Oklahoma and edged 10-7 by Arkansas 11-0 in the Cotton Bowl.

The schedule is favorable because outside foes include cribbing-riddled Air Force and the league slate has the roughest rivals down the stretch.

Alabama is definitely in the picture provided squadmen, sophomores and redshirts shore up the gaps at tackle and guard. The Tide should be as sound defensively as last year with a better running attack and quarterback Steve Sloan, who played more than his celebrated co-pilot Joe Namath, at the throttle.

Nov. 6 Showdown

The showdown comes Nov. 6 at Baton Rouge where Bama tangles with LSU, a team with nearly twice the number of lettermen, 30, but a very tough schedule. The winner will have an inside track to the SEC crown.

October 16 two other national championship contenders may well be determined as an ominous-looking Purdue squad invades the fair of Michigan's Big Ten defenders and Texas visits Arkansas in the battle of the teams which are runaway choices to dominate the Southwest for the seventh straight campaign.

That same day the Lambert Trophy can be settled when Penn State is at Syracuse. In addition, Stanford visits Southern California in a big coast battle and Harvard goes to Cornell in a major Ivy League test.

Rabid Notre Dame fans are talking No. 1, recalling only a sensational finish by USC prevented a perfect Irish season in 1964. Then they note the Varsity crushed the Old Timers 72-0 in the annual spring game.

Pessimistic coach Ara Parseghian, pointing out he's got no sure-fire quarterback to replace Heisman Trophy winner John Huarte and that the spring game was no measuring rod, says "We're overrated."

The truth lies somewhere in between, possibly at an 8-2 season. Most likely candidates for top 10: Not necessarily in order: Alabama, LSU, Kentucky, Notre Dame, Purdue, Michigan, Arkansas, Texas, Nebraska, USC, Syracuse.

Purdue Rated Likely Big Ten Grid Champion

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Although defending champion Michigan got more first place votes, Purdue was rated the likely 1965 Big Ten football champion Saturday in a poll of writers touring conference camps by plane.

The largest Skywriter group in the tour's 12-year history gave Purdue the slight edge over Michigan, 258 points to 255. The balloting was based on 10 points for first place nine for second, etc.

However, Michigan won 12 first place votes, compared with seven for Purdue and six for Ohio State, tabbed a third place finisher with 238 points.

Three first place votes went to Michigan State, awarded fourth place on 194 points. Minnesota received one first place vote for fifth place on 185 points.

Remaining order of the predicted finish was: Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Northwestern, and Wisconsin.

In 11 previous years, the Skywriters guessed right only once, picking Ohio State to win in 1961.

The Big Ten season opens next weekend with all except one member in action.

Anderson Hurls 14-0 Houston Win

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Bill Anderson, a former defensive halfback, threw two touchdowns passes Saturday in leading the 1965 edition of the aerial minded Tulsa Hurricanes to a 14-0 victory over the University of Houston in the air conditioned Astrodome.

A crowd of 37,138 escaped 96-degree temperatures by moving indoors to witness the nationally televised game that brought football to the dusty turf of the $31.6 million domed structure.

Houston was a narrow favorite, but Anderson's passes, spectacular catches by Howard Twilley and Neal Sweeney, and a rugged Hurricane defense that caused four Houston fumbles permitted Tulsa a domination most of the way.

Houston crossed midfield only three times—under its own power in the third and final periods and after a Tulsa punt traveled only 18 yards in the fourth. The Cougars got no deeper than the Tulsa 30.

Athletics Drop Baltimore, 3-2

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dick Green slapped a single to center in the ninth inning, scoring Bill Bryan and giving the Kansas City Athletics a 3-2 victory over Baltimore Saturday night.

The loss dropped the Orioles nine games behind the American League leading Minnesota Twins.

Bryan got the A's started with a leadoff single in the ninth off reliever Dick Hall. Mike Hersberger sacrificed and then Green brought Bryan home.

A homer by Baltimore's Boog Powell, his 15th of the season and third in the last two had tied the score 2-2 in the sixth.

Maloney Pitches Reds By Bucs 3-2

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fireballing Jim Maloney singled in the winning run and pitched a five-hitter as the Cincinnati Reds came from behind and edged the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 Saturday.

The triumph kept the Reds 1½ games behind the National League-leading San Francisco Giants, who defeated Chicago 6-4. The fifth-place Pirates fell 5½ back.

Maloney's hit capped a three-run uprising in the sixth inning. After the Pirates got a pair of runs in the third, Maloney got tough and retired 14 batters in a row before Bill Virdon singled in the eighth. The victory was Maloney's 18th against seven losses.

Gordy Coleman reached first on a force play in the Cincinnati sixth and Frank Robinson singled. Then, after Deron Johnson advanced the runners on a ground out, John Edwards walked, loading the bases.

Leo Cardenas tied the game with a two-run single to left, sending Tommy Sisk, 6-3, to the showers and bringing on Joe Gibbon.

FASTEST GAMES

Two- and three-hour baseball games are commonplace today but the fastest played game on record lasted just 32 minutes. This record was set by Mobile and Atlanta of the Southern league on Sept. 19, 1910. Fastest game in major league history was played between the Giants and Phillies on Sept. 28, 1919 with the Giants winning, 6-1 in 51 minutes.

Eye To Eye—Washington Senators shortstop Ed Brinkman seems to be perplexed by events at D.C. Stadium and well he might. He is in the process of dropping an outfield relay, allowing runners to move an extra base.

Southwest Grid Foes May Again Be Loop Powers

By ARNOLD IRISH
EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — Arch-rivals East St. Louis and Belleville, who tied for the Southwestern Conference football championship in 1964, are expected to settle this year's race in their annual Thanksgiving morning game in November.

Price added a pair of TDs inside the five. Pinder scored from the four and Ron Bess from the six.

Custardo and sophomore quarterback Rich Erickson, who spelled Custardo in the final quarter, completed nine passes. Both gained good yardage carrying the ball on rollouts.

The lone score against the first string came when sophomore Dean Volkman connected on a long pass to sprinter Trenton Jackson, who scurried to the end zone to complete a 70-yard play.

New Students Arrive Today At MacMurray

Some 440 students from at least 27 states and four foreign countries will arrive on the MacMurray College campus this morning for opening day and the start of New Student Week activities.

About 400 of the students will be freshmen; the balance will be students transferring to MacMurray from other colleges and universities. Last year's freshman class numbered 348 students.

Expect 1,015 Students
By Wednesday, when upperclassmen arrive for registration, MacMurray expects to have approximately 1,015 full-time, regular students—an increase of nearly 40 students over last year at this time. The projected enrollment does not include special or part-time students.

The parents of many of the new students also will be on campus today to take part in a special program planned to help them to become better acquainted with the college.

Fellowship Service
Parents and new students will have an opportunity to attend a fellowship service at 11:15 a.m. in Annie Merner Chapel. Robert K. Thomas, MacMurray's newly appointed dean of students, will deliver the sermon.

After the chapel service, a bus tour of the campus has been scheduled for parents visiting the campus for the first time. Two buses, traveling continuously, will circle the 60-acre campus. Guides will point out major buildings enroute, including the new campus center and chemistry building, both of which were opened last year. The tour also includes the site of the new men's residence hall now under construction on Chambers street. A buffet dinner also will be served in McClelland Hall with faculty members serving as hosts to parents and students.

To Welcome Parents
In the afternoon while students attend meetings, their parents will attend a program sponsored by the Parents' Association and will be officially welcomed into the MacMurray family by president Gordon E. Michelson. This event is scheduled at 2 p.m. in the chapel, and will be followed by an informal reception in the campus center. The traditional opening convocation, which officially marks the start of the school year, will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the chapel. President Michelson will address the student body. Classes begin Thursday.

Farmer - Government Gap Growing Wider IAA President Says

Farm Bureau is living proof that farmers would rather depend on their own organization for help than on the federal government, William J. Kuhfuss, Illinois Agricultural Association president, said here last night.

Kuhfuss spoke at the 2nd annual pork barbecue sponsored by the Morgan County Farm Bureau and held at the Morgan county fairgrounds.

"Farm Bureau has remained a strong and influential organization in Illinois for the past half century because it has stuck to its original purpose—helping farmers accomplish what they could not individually accomplish," Kuhfuss said.

"If Farm Bureau were to abdicate its responsibilities to agriculture then the door would be wide open for the federal government to move in and run the nation's agriculture. This will assure a condition of peasantry for our farmers."

Kuhfuss noted that the Illinois Agricultural Association, the statewide Farm Bureau, will mark its 50th anniversary next January.

Bureau Purpose Changes
"In the beginning, Farm Bureau served as the vehicle to carry technical information on farming from the universities' experiment stations and other sources of factual information to the farmers who wanted to make a better livelihood. Later, as the business of farming became more complex, farmers needed other services and they called on Farm Bureau to help them."

"It started as and has remained the principal organization serving farmers. Because its policies are governed by farmers, it does reflect the needs and attitudes of farmers today and will do so in the future. Sound planning and sound financing have been the keys to Farm Bureau's success."

HUMANE SOCIETY ADOPTS POLICY FOR MEMBERSHIP

New Method Bindery Holds United Fund Work Day Saturday

"We knew that it was coming so we decided the sooner the better," Robert Sibert, president of the New Method Book Bindery, said Saturday.

He went on to say, "The fact is, we would like to establish the tradition at our plant of making the first Saturday after Labor Day each year our United Fund Work Day."

"If employees know this, then they can make their family plans accordingly."

"The only way we can approach our United Fund goal is by a Work Day. I'm proud of the fact that 90% of our employees were able to arrange their schedules to participate in this year's Work Day. This is by far the largest number we have ever had. I know that it meant sacrificing weekend plans for many and that there were others who wanted to participate but could not cancel plans on such short notice."

The New Method Book Bindery employee's group goal for this year is $1,570. Saturday's Work Day netted over $1,300. Mr. Sibert felt sure that when gifts from the other 10% of the employees are included, they will nicely exceed their goal.

James Malone, United Fund Co-Chairman with Robert Spink, said, "Certainly a large part of the satisfaction that comes from this United Fund work is the surprises that are continually happening — generous and sacrificial gifts and people anticipating your requests like these folks out at the New Method Book Bindery. Many other Work Days are in the planning stages but the example of these employees is most heartening."

Robert Spink reported that the list of Division Chairmen is almost complete and will be announced in a few days. He said that plans in each division are well under way. He asked that everyone keep in mind that solicitation dates for this year are September 24th to October 12th and that the Campaign Goal is $120,000, a 20% increase that calls for better planning and more generous giving than in the past.

Rescue Horse From Excavation Saturday Night

A horse and rider had a narrow escape Saturday evening when they fell into a ten foot hole along U.S. 36-54 west of Byers Brothers.

Rider of the horse, Jerry McCurley of Jacksonville, escaped injury when he was thrown from the animal as it fell into the excavation about eight o'clock.

McCurley called police, who notified the Allied wrecker service. Ray Samples of Allied, attached a strap around the hind quarter of the animal and connected it to the crane of the wrecker.

Another line was attached to the front section of the horse and within minutes the animal was freed.

McCurley was fearful that the animal would have to be destroyed, but his doubts were soon erased when the winch eased the hapless horse from his hole.

COST OF SHOES EXPECTED TO RISE

The wholesale prices on almost all low and medium priced shoes will increase Monday by about five per cent according to announcements by the world's two largest shoe manufacturers, International Shoe Company and Brown Shoe Company of St. Louis.

The increase will amount to about one dollar on men's, women's, and children's shoes selling from $7 a pair up. The increase is expected throughout the shoe industry.

Rising prices paid for hides and leather are the most important reason for the increases according to Maurice R. Chambers, president of International Shoe Company.

Most shoe stores in Jacksonville will be affected by the increased cost from the manufacturers. Most fall shoe stocks have already been purchased by retailers but the increased prices will be in evidence, for the most part, on items consumers will be buying in December, January and February.

Apprehend Youth After 9 Block Chase Saturday

Police identified the youth as Joseph S. Hapke, 15, of 1704 Mound avenue. He was released to the custody of his parents after being held at police headquarters.

Police said that a car was spotted headed westbound on West State, traveling at a high rate of speed near the intersection of Kosciusko.

Officers followed the car which turned south on Prospect and proceeded to Grove street. There, police said, the vehicle headed east, across South Diamond and South Prairie, to South Kosciusko, where it turned north.

Police followed the auto, a white compact car, when it turned east onto Morgan. Officers said the vehicle stopped in the Eisner parking lot, and the driver fled the vehicle.

Patrolman Gerald Scott followed the youth on foot through the Dunlap hotel, and the Drexel before overtaking the youth on the west side of the public square about 8:30 p.m. Scott identified the Hapke youth later at the station as the same person he chased on foot.

East Indian Farmer Dazzled By American Production

with host family, the Charles Williams

BAIDYA NATH PRASAD SINGH, 28, of northeast India, has been visiting farms in America since May 10, and he's not sure of what he thinks of us.

For the past two weeks plus he's been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams and family, west of Bethel. This week he goes to Fayette county, and then will have ten days of "free time" before returning to his 130 acre farm where he raises wheat, rice, sugar cane and potatoes.

Singh is one of the 16 Eastern Indians — 13 men and 3 girls — now in the United States under the International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE).

At 22 he graduated from Banaras University with a major in history, and he intended to spend the rest of his life teaching history and doing research work in the subject. But then his father died. His father owned some farm land, so did his mother and his brother, who is a lawyer.

He switched from history to agriculture, and is happy that he did.

In IFYE most of the visitors are 4-H age, 18-21, but in India they do things differently and do not send anybody to the U.S. until they are in the adult class, 25 years old and up.

Singh is married and has five children.

He's the chairman of his "block," an area 15 miles wide and that long, with 80,000 people in it. There are 20 villages in the block. The block is set up by the Minister of Agriculture to increase food production.

"But with you," Singh says, "you are trying to confine production, you have too much."

As hard as we try we just can't have enough.

But he has hopes. And he's bought a tractor.

"We don't have any experimental stations such as you. But people in our area come to my farm to see what can be done. It's a good feeling, and I'm going to spend the rest of my life trying to do better," he stated with firmness.

He Loves The Williams. He found it hard to understand that the Charles Williams family could produce so much food every year — 730 acres, with around 2,000 head of hogs each year, many beef cattle, many market lambs.

"They are simply wonderful," he said in his halting English. "I can only hope that they will visit me some day."

Singh can produce food only through irrigation. His area has a rainfall of around 60 inches a year, but it comes in two months — July and August. His money crops are sugar cane and potatoes — all the wheat and rice produced are consumed right at home.

Big Winner? The second photo shows John and Singh, with John holding a plaque he won with a Hampshire lamb in the show held recently during the Bushnell, McDonough county, farm festival.

His lamb was ranked the second best on hoof, and at the time the photograph was taken John had hopes of his entry winning first in the carcass class, and thus he would collect $85.

He had to settle for $22.

It is possible that the lamb show at Bushnell set some kind of record. The judge of the animals on the hoof and the judge of the carcasses in the cooling room of the packing house didn't agree on anything.

John's reserve champion ended up No. 20 on the rail and the grand champion of the day didn't place at all.

This is undoubtedly a record of some kind.

Singh first visited a large wheat farm near Moscow, Idaho. Then he went to Kansas State at Manhattan where he studied animal health. Then he went to Logan county, where he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Aple.

"They raise corn around there," Singh says.

While in Morgan county he was particularly impressed with the hybrid corn production of Burrus Bros. & Associated Growers west of Arenzville.

Needed? New Seed In Kansas and here he was fascinated by the zeal and accomplishments of plant breeders who develop new and better varieties.

"I'm convinced that we must move in this direction. I can see now that it is ridiculous how we do it. Some of our seed has been in one family for more than a century; the seed for next year's crop is put in a sack and hung in a corner of the house; the same thing, generation after generation."

He's not sure what he's going to do about it, but he's going to do something.

He's been farming with bullocks for power, but while here he bought a tractor — a Massey-Ferguson.

The Massey is the No. 1 tractor in India for only one reason, but it's a most important reason. The English - owned syndicate that makes it sees to it that replacement parts are always on hand. Germany, Czechoslovakia, Russia and the United States have tried to get into the business, but have been unsuccessful thus far.

They sell a tractor, but don't go on from there.

"A man near me bought an International tractor, but it broke down, and he finally sent a letter to Chicago, Illinois, but the man answered that they had no record of the sale," Singh recollected. "The man was pretty mad."

Lincoln Lore Singh especially enjoyed the night the Williams family went to New Salem to see the play "Abe Lincoln in Illinois." The life of Abraham Lincoln fascinates most Near East and Indian people, because so many of their leaders met death by assassination.

Last Tuesday night he came to Jacksonville for a dinner of native dishes, and he ate like the proverbial hired man at thresher's dinner. His hosts were Vijay and Esther Dubey, who live over Hopper's shoe store at the southeast corner of the square.

Shown in the third picture are Dr. and Mrs. K. S. Mail, Singh and Mr. and Mrs. Dubey.

Dr. Mail is a professor of economics at MacMurray College; Mr. Dubey works in the industrial therapy department of the Jacksonville State hospital and Mrs. Dubey is a psychologist there.

"I wish all of you would come and visit me sometime," Singh says.

Not A Hog On The Farm - A True Wail Of Many During Late Price Boom

On June 1, 1965 Illinois farmers had 14 percent fewer hogs and pigs on hand than a year earlier, reported the Illinois Cooperative Crop Reporting Service.

This decrease followed a 2 percent decrease during the previous year.

These 2 years of decrease followed 3 years in which hog production was increasing. When changes in hog production occur, it is of great interest to know whether the number of producers or the size of operations is the cause of the change. To measure the types of changes that occurred in various sizes of operations during the past 2 years, a special study was made of the June 1 hog inventories for farmers that submitted livestock reports June 1, 1964 and again June 1, 1965.

None On Hand This study showed that 18 percent of the livestock reporters with hogs and pigs on hand June 1, 1964 had no hogs on hand June 1, 1965, while 42 percent had reduced the number on hand. The remaining 40 percent held inventories steady or increased the number on hand. For comparative purposes a similar study was made for farmers that reported June 1, 1963 and again June 1, 1964. For this period, 14 percent of the livestock farmers with hogs on hand June 1, 1963 had no hogs on hand a year later, while 41 percent had decreased size of their hog inventory. Inventories for the remaining 45 percent held steady or increased.

Who Quit The largest proportion going out of the hog business during each of these twelve-month periods was those in the group with one to forty-nine hogs on hand at the beginning of the year.

From June 1, 1964 to June 1, 1965 a total of 34 percent of the farmers in this group did not have any hogs June 1, 1965; for the preceding year, 27 percent of this group had no hogs on June 1, 1964.

On the other hand, 16 percent of these farmers with one to forty-nine hogs on hand June 1, 1964 had fifty or more hogs on hand a year later. For this group as of June 1, 1963, those who had increased to fifty or more hogs on hand June 1, 1964 was 20 percent.

Some large hog operations have gone out of the hog business during the past two years. For example, 9 percent of the farms reporting three hundred or more hogs on hand June 1, 1964 had no hogs on hand a year later. Of the farms with three hundred or more hogs on hand June 1, 1963, the percent who had gone out of hogs by June 1, 1964 was 5 percent. Only 70 percent of the farms with three hundred or more hogs on hand June 1, 1964 still had three hundred or more hogs on hand June 1, 1965. During the preceding year, 75 percent of the farms with three hundred or more hogs June 1, 1963 still had three hundred or more June 1, 1964.

Family Cat Now No. 1 Carrier Of Rabies, Should Be Vaccinated

The "dog days" of August are past, but rabies is still with us. University of Illinois extension veterinarian Neil Becker says that rabies is not confined to the "dog days," but is a problem throughout the year.

Rabies is also not limited to dogs. Any warm-blooded animal can contract the disease. Cases have been reported in cats, cattle, sheep, horses, squirrels, foxes, skunks and other animals. Certain other animals, such as the opossum, however, seem to be completely resistant.

Most rabies is transmitted by bite because the rabies virus is located in the salivary glands. Becker says that the bite injects the virus along with the saliva into the wound. The virus travels up the nerves, but does not cause any damage until it reaches the spinal cord and brain.

Then we see characteristic rabies symptoms, such as madness, incoordination and paralysis of the mouth that prevents the animals from swallowing. Complete paralysis occurs shortly later, and the animal dies.

Considerable Progress Rabies in dogs has generally been controlled well in the city by required vaccination, licensing and confinement regulations. However, there are other animals in the city that are not vaccinated or confined. The common household cat is perhaps one of the most serious carriers.

State law does not require the vaccination or confinement of cats. Allowed to roam day and night, the cat is likely to come into contact with other cats or animals that have the disease and become infected. Several cases of rabid cats have already been reported this year. Squirrels are also known to carry rabies, although very few cases are reported.

What To Do Becker gives these suggestions to pet owners and parents: Have your pet cat vaccinated, and keep it confined to your home and yard. Caution your children not to play with stray cats or dogs. Tell them not to try to catch wild animals. Report to the police or local health authorities all cases in which animals bite people or children. Report any stray cats or dogs to the city humane society or dog pound.

If you or your child is bitten by an animal, contact your family doctor immediately. Confine the animal, if possible without killing it. The series of shots for people bitten by suspected rabid animals no longer causes many of the former side effects, because a safer vaccine has been developed.

ESTIMATE RECORD CORN PRODUCTION SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Illinois' 1965 corn production was estimated Friday at a record 872 million bushels, an increase of 28 percent over the 1959-63 average.

The State-Federal Crop Reporting Service said the yield would exceed by nearly 120 million bushels the record 1963 production of 752 million bushels.

Prospects for the crop were improved during August by favorable temperatures and precipitation, the service said, and noted the Sept. 1 forecast was up 5 percent from Aug. 1.

The expected average yield of 92 bushels per acre would be seven bushels above the previous high set in 1963 and 14 bushels per acre above the average for the past five years.

Soybean production was estimated at 175 million bushels, the same as last month but 21 percent above last year's production and 19 percent above the five-year average.

The indicated yield of 29 bushels per acre would be four bushels above a year ago and more than a bushel above the five-year average.

Third, the post-harvest price recovery is likely to be slower

ILLINOIS OUTLOOK LETTER

CORN PRICES TO WEAKEN

Illinois farmers will harvest their largest corn crop this fall and may displace their Iowa neighbors as the number one corn-producing state. The current estimate of 874 million bushels compares with 711 million bushels in 1964 and the 1959-1963 five-year average of 681 million. An increase of 4 percent in acreage and 10 bushels per acre in average state yields — from 78 bushels in 1964 to 88 bushels in 1965 — accounts for the larger 1965 crop.

Price prospects. What are the price prospects for corn in the 1965-66 marketing season? Several forces point to lower corn prices in 1965-66 than in 1964-65. The real question is how much lower?

To begin with, the nation's 1965 corn production — now estimated at 4,096 million bushels — will equal or exceed disappearance in the 1965-66 marketing year.

Corn disappearance in the 1964-65 season is tentatively estimated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to be 3,960 million bushels. Of this total, 3,079 million went for livestock feed, 320 million for food and industrial use, 11 million for seed, and 550 million for export.

In 1965-66 favorable livestock feed price ratios are expected to increase feed use per animal more than enough to offset the effect of fewer hog numbers. Therefore, total feed use may reach 3.1 million bushels. U. S. corn exports, which doubled from 1960 to 1964 and sell for dollars, are expected to continue their upward trend. Two competing countries, Argentina and South Africa, have short crops. One uncertainty is how much rain-damaged European wheat will sell for feed.

Price anchored to loan rate — not CCC sales price. Next, and important, is that, because of the larger 1965 crop, market prices in 1965-66 will be anchored to the $1.05 loan rate rather than to the Commodity Credit Corporation's sale price. In 1964-65 CCC's asking price set the level of prices after the harvest glut because it was common knowledge that three to four hundred million bushels of their corn would be needed to supply market needs.

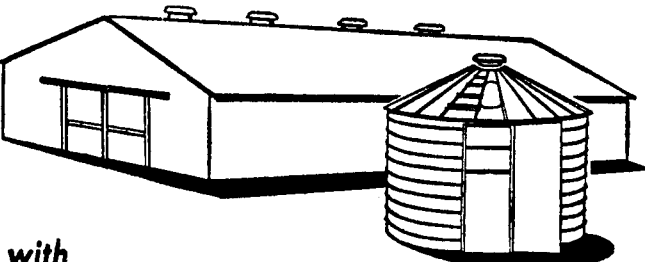

Third, the post-harvest price recovery is likely to be slower than in 1964-65 because of supply shortage that develops will be due to withholding by farmers. Eventually, however, market prices will work high enough to induce farmers to redeem and sell 1965 crops they have put under loan. Such a price is likely to be 5 to 10 cents above the loan rate.

In summary, the 1965-66 corn price will fluctuate around the loan price—below by the cost of storage or more at harvest, and above to the redemption price in the spring or summer of 1966. Farmers without storage might well consider contracting part of the corn crop now. Current bids for new corn are close to the 1965 loan rate and may be within 10 to 15 cents of next summer's high.

How Is The American Farmer Doing? Your Guess Good As Any

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question frequently is asked, "How's the American farmer doing?"

Politicians, farm officials, farm leaders, economists and even farmers themselves have ready answers. Of course, they seldom are the same answers.

For instance, the Johnson administration says farmers are better off than at any time since the early 1950s.

But some Republicans argue that this is not true.

The American Farm Bureau Federation says producers would be a lot better off financially if they did not have to operate under government control programs.

The National Farmers Union says farm conditions are not as rosy as the administration says they are. But unlike the rival Farm Bureau, it blames what it considers unsatisfactory farm returns on farm programs that are too weak rather than too strong.

"Sunshine and Light" "I am not too impressed," says Farmers Union President James G. Patton, "with the 'sunshine and light' reports that are emanating these days from the (Agriculture Department's) Economic Research Service. Agriculture is a static island in the midst of an escalating economy."

The truth of the matter is, no accurate generalized answer can be given the question concerning the farmer's economic situation.

The reason for this is that there are many types of farmers or farming operations in agriculture and thousands of individual producers in each type.

Down, Up, Unchanged For example, in 1964, the net income of farmers averaged lower than in 1963 on 23 types of farming, higher on 18 and unchanged on one among 42 important types of commercial farmers in 24 major farming areas of the country.

An Agriculture Department study shows that income changes between 1963 and 1964 ranged from a decline of 84 per cent for nonirrigated cotton farms in the high plains of Texas to an increase of 146 per cent for cotton-specialty crop farms in the San Joaquin Valley of California.

Except for a few extremes, declines in income in 1964 were generally greater than increases. On more than three-fourths of the farmers which had lower incomes, the reduction was greater than 10 percent. However, less than one-half of the farms with higher incomes showed increases of more than 10 per cent.

Factors having the most effect of incomes in 1964 were changes in farm production and in prices received for products sold.

1965 CROP ESTIMATES WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department Friday forecast this year's production of corn for grain at 4,143,660,000 bushels and of all wheat at 1,357,777,000 bushels.

The corn crop figure was 47,700,000 bushels more than last month's forecast of 4,095,960,000 bushels, the largest of record. It compared with 3,548,604,000 last year.

The wheat estimate was 18,450,000 bushels less than the Aug. 1 forecast of 1,376,227,000 bushels. It compared with 1,290,468,000 last year.

western states. Although we may dislike our noisy Blue Jay, we can enjoy six other species of jays in the West. Last summer in our travels in the West we had no difficulty in seeing Steller's and the Gray or Canada Jay, but we wanted to add the Pinon Jay to our list. We had tried in vain during two other summers. Would we miss this abundant jay again? We focused our attention upon stretches of pinon pines, upon junipers or "cedars," and over sage brush, places where this coveted bird ranged. At the end of each day we had not seen a Pinon and decided to forget about it.

Montana Hike Then one hot July morning on the way to East Glacier, Montana, we stopped at a small body of water to scan the area for thirsty birds. As we wandered along the bank, we picked up unrecognized chattering sounds. Across the water we discovered a large flock of blue birds fluttering in the shallow water and preening themselves in the nearby trees and shrubs. These birds were not Mountain Bluebirds; they were too large and a duller blue; their bills were long and sharp. They were not Blue Jays or Steller's Jays, for they had no crests. We studied the birds carefully through our binoculars, for we couldn't trust our convictions. We were really seeing not just one Pinon Jay but over a hundred of these birds.

Travel Fun Soon they flew socially over our heads much like our blackbirds. Their forms reminded us of our crows. In fact, the Pinon Jay has been called a Blue Crow. We decided to eat some pinon nuts in celebration of our new bird and of course added it to our life list.

Let's Go Birding

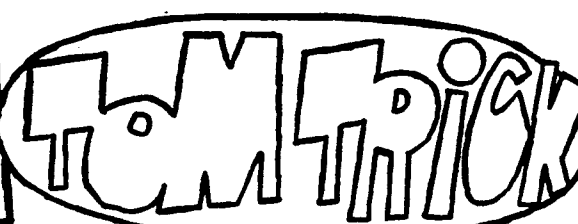

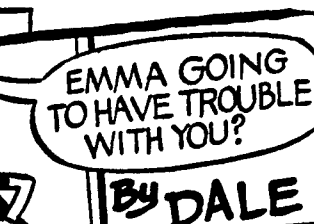

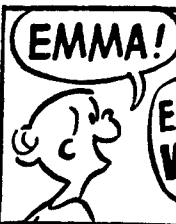

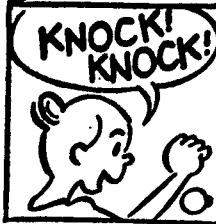

Blue Crow

By Emma Mae Leonhard

Birding is a tantalizing hobby. We birders begin to build up a life list of birds. The first hundred, or even two hundred species of birds, aren't too difficult to find and identify. In fact, they seem to be all around us and sing, "Please add me to your list."

We probably begin our life list at home during the different seasons. In many cases spring, the season of bird song and migration of birds in their new spring fashions, is the first tempter. Then we soon add winter, and explore the weed patches and coniferous groves for our brave winter residents.

As this hobby grows, we begin plans to locate other species on our travels. We read all that we can find about birds and bird life in a special area. If we wish to add other kinds of hummingbirds to our Ruby-throated, we go to some of our

Where Are The Canals?

By Walter B. Hendrickson, Jr.

Mariner IV's historic photographs failed to show any of the Martian canals which are the most prominent feature of that planet when seen from earth.

Although the pictures cover many areas where canals have been seen they were taken at a time when the canals are not very prominent. It was summer in the northern half of Mars and winter on the southern. The canals are most prominent in the spring.

Mariner IV's pictures may actually have provided a clue to the canals by revealing numerous craters on Mars. Many craters on the moon have long rays stretching out from them. These rays frequently cross those from other craters forming networks of bright, white lines over the surface of the Moon.

Many Tiny Craters

The photographs taken by the Ranger Moon probes show that the surface of these rays is pitted by countless tiny craters caused by debris flung out by the explosions that created the craters. The same thing would probably also happen on Mars.

In spring moisture traveling south from the melting polar cap would freeze in these craterlets as the Martian nighttime temperature dropped to 60 degrees below zero. As the rising sun brought the temperatures up to 60 degrees above zero the frost in the craterlets would melt. This would furnish life giving dew and mists for plants creating the greenish canals that have been seen from earth.

The Martian ray craters would probably be surrounded by sunburst patterns of debris. The craterlets in these areas would collect life giving moisture. This would create the many oases that have been seen where several canals come together.

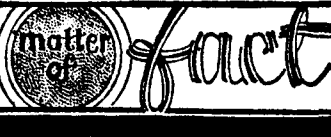

No Oasis Photos

Mariner IV did not take any pictures of these oases but it did show that most of the craters are found in the dark areas of Mars. Many scientists think these areas of Mars are caused by some form of vegetation. The picture at the top of this page covers one of these areas.

Astronomers have long suspected that the canals on Mars might be formed in some manner similar to the rays on the moon. More than ten years ago Clyde W. Tombaugh, the discoverer of the ninth planet, Pluto, suggested that the oases on Mars might be craters. The canals he speculated might be cracks in the surface of Mars caused by explosions of the giant meteors that created the craters.

No such cracks were seen by Mariner IV, however. The pictures were not detailed enough to show if any tiny craterlets like those on the moon exist. This kind of close-up work will have to wait until a probe lands on Mars.

Duet For Home-Coming

By Mrs. Otto Dorr

Frances drummed on table tops, she drummed up and down window panes, she drummed on chairs until her mother grew tired of wiping away finger marks.

"I declare," she fretted after washing four windows, "I believe that child would practice if we got her a piano."

Father looked serious, "Pianos are expensive," he commented soberly, "Doesn't she want something else?"

Mother picked up her damp towel, "No," she insisted, "That is all she wants."

Frances looked at both of them, "I will play some day," she silently determined then added aloud solemnly, "Cousin Callie has a new piano now."

"Well," she heard her father say, then repeat two more, "Well-Well-Well!" If her father can buy one I can too, and he picked up his hat and drove to town.

The next day a piano with its new twisting stool was trundled into the parlor.

"Furthermore," her father announced, "Here is your music book, your teacher will come this afternoon."

Frances worked faithfully through page after page and lesson by lesson, until one day her teacher asked, "Wouldn't you like to try a duet with your cousin?"

THE FULTON STREET FISH MARKET

The city of New York has always been celebrated as a fish depot throughout the world. Her waters have always yielded an abundance of the finny tribe, and as facilities for transportation have increased, the denizens of the deep have been ruthlessly snatched from their watery homes, and hurried, with lightning speed, to Gotham, from whence they are transferred to every available point in the United States where fish are eaten, or to reach which they can be kept in a reasonable degree of freshness. Our view, with the fishing smacks unloading in the rear, is one of especial interest, for here the small vessels used for catching and transporting arrive, and transfer their cargoes to the boxes. These boxes are simply square receptacles, constructed with a door on top, and interstices between the boarding, so that water can have free circulation. They float in the area behind the market, each dealer having a certain place in the water for his box. In these fish will live weeks, perhaps months, and be always ready and fresh to his owner's hands. To this spot come the boats from every part, bringing their cargoes in what are called "wells," which are simply compartments in the centre of the vessel, with holes directly through the bottom for the circulation of water and keeping the tenants alive. "Old Long Island's sea-girt shore" is the favorite fishing ground, and there some thousand of the jolly fishermen pluck a living from the briny deep. At Gravesend they find with what is generally known as the pound net, enclosing an immense space, constructed on the principle of a broad mouth, gradually leading the fish onward, until they find themselves entrapped in a circumscribed apartment, from which they are easily taken.

On other parts of Long Island shore, the fishing is done by means of the seine, a process as old as Father Adam, and unnecessary to describe. The interior of the building is interesting to visit. The largest amount of business is transacted between the hours of three and eight in the morning, during which time the retail dealers of the city and vicinity come in for their stock. After the latter hour the general public begin to look out for their dinners, and by twelve the sales are over, and the busy spot is comparatively deserted. —Frank Leslie's Newspaper.

We are putting up in our new office one of the celebrated Day jobbers, and will therefore be prepared with increased facilities, to turn out rapidly and in the neatest style any amount of job printing. In each case his quarters were on the third floor. The Day Jobber press was a mechanical wonder of its day and some of these old presses were seen in country printing offices up to 20 years ago. In response to the complaint of soldiers who now demand that they be enlisted for three years or during the war, Major-General Terry, commanding the Department of Virginia, defines the term "during the war" to mean "as long as any military necessity exists in the late insurrectionary States."

A New Orleans correspondent says the property of John Slidell, comprising 842 lots and squares of ground, with stores, dwelling-houses and a banking-house, was sold for $100,410. Before the war it was estimated at $800,000. Had the war not taken place, it is estimated that Mr. Slidell would have been worth $2,000,000.

The current receipts of the Government from customs and internal revenue are unusually large. The income from the internal revenue averages over $2,000,000 a day.

There is a story of a New York tenement inspector who found four families living in one room, chalk marks being drawn across in such a manner as to mark out a quarter of the floor for each family. "How do you get along here?" inquired the inspector. "Very well, sir," was the reply. "Only the man in the further corner keeps boarders."

It is estimated that through the havoc and repudiation consequent upon the rebellion and its failure, and from the emancipation of the slaves, the value of property in South Carolina, which was $400,000,000 in 1860, has been reduced to $50,000,000 at the present time.

THE WRONG BUNDLE — Pumpkins popped in to pay his rent, putting on a long face to correspond with the occasion. On entering the house, he said that the times were so hard that he couldn't raise the money; and, dashing down a bundle of notes on the table, exclaimed, "There! That's all I can pay." The money was taken up and counted by the landlord, who said, "Why this is twice as much as you owe me." "Dang it, give it to me again," said the farmer; "I'm dashed if I didn't take the wrong bundle out of my pocket."

GIs Sacrificing Food Tastes To Win Hearts, Minds In Viet

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
VINH LONG, South Viet Nam (AP) — America can take pride in the knowledge that her fighting sons in Viet Nam are sacrificing their stomachs to win the minds and hearts of the people.

They are eating dogs and snakes, elephant ears, monkeys, rats and bats to save face among the Vietnamese and Montagnard troops they have come to help and advise.

"The rule is eat it first, then ask what it is," explained Capt. Ronald Griffith of Roosevelt, Ga., a district adviser in a remote Mekong River delta area where the garrison gourmet, on any given day, is apt to encounter worms, eels, rice, rats, raw fish and pigeon. "Often it's better not to ask, and it helps a bit not to look at it."

Among Vietnamese troops in particular, lunch in the field is an elaborate ritual. No aluminum mess kits and C rations for them. Invariably, there is a steaming cauldron of chicken soup. The American adviser, always the honored guest, is given the chicken head, a favored delicacy, along with a pair of chopsticks to pluck out the eyeballs.

Primitive Montagnard tribes in the mountain areas are not so ritualistic at mealtime. Their menus, however, are apt to be a trifle more challenging: roast dog, stewed python, fricassee of monkey, all washed down with buckets of rice wine that has been fermenting in bubbling anguish under the grass huts for several months.

Almost everything that grows in Viet Nam can be eaten. The lush land, blessed with abundant rainfall, abounds in coconuts, bananas, mangoes, peanuts and all kinds of leaves and bushes that make excellent instant salads.

Often you see a Vietnamese patrol moving out, uniformed in jungle fatigues and helmets, with one man lugging a shopping bag full of groceries and another a live duck with the beak tied up so its quacking doesn't betray the action.

In the Viet Cong-infested canals of the delta, a Vietnamese sailor will hop off a River Assault Group boat at low tide to drop a water buffalo, butcher it on the spot and haul it back aboard for a deckside barbecue.

Gracious dining and guerrilla fighting go hand in hand in the inscrutable East, even if the table d'hôte selection may not always appeal to the American palate.

"I don't care whether it creeps, crawls or wriggles," insisted Lt. Col. Donald L. Roberts of Port Angeles, Wash., senior adviser to Vinh Long Province in the delta. "Just as long as the Vietnamese eat it, I'll eat it."

Not all Americans are that adventurous. Some would rather spend a week in the mangrove swamps than sit down with the province chief to another one of those feasts where the courses proceed from roaring red hot peppers and sauteed cuckoo lizard to a big prime rib of water buffalo.

Sometimes there's only so much a man can do for his country. Sgt. Percy Dedeaux of Pass Christian, Miss., a medic in the Chau Thanh district, was dining one night with a regional force outfit when the Vietnamese company commander ladled a boiled constrictor out of the bubbling pot.

"It just kept coming and coming," recalled Dedeaux, "and that's when I had to call it quits."

Vietnamese want their guests to enjoy their groaning board and are easily offended if the visiting American doesn't dig in with gusto. They are particularly proud of the fish sauce that accompanies almost every

Chaplain Has Different Type Mission In Asia

By GEORGE ESPER
CHU LAI, South Viet Nam (AP) — Navy Cmdr. Robert Mole, a Protestant chaplain, has a different kind of mission in Southeast Asia.
He's doing research on what he terms "living religion in faith and fact in Southeast Asia."
"I'm talking to men, visiting with various religious leaders — all types," Mole explains. "It's an on-site research mission — not from textbooks, but from human beings."
Mole said he is trying to find out "how people in Southeast Asia live, what they believe, how this affects their daily life, their taboos, their value system and religious customs, so that American servicemen might more fully understand, appreciate and cooperate in helping the Southeast Asians to achieve their own desired goals."
"This is Gen. Krulak's idea and is under the auspices of the Marine Corps and the Navy," Mole said. He referred to Lt. Gen. Victor Krulak, commander of Fleet Marine Force, Pacific.

"We intend to do an exhaustive research project," Mole said.
"The basic thing is the do's and don't's as counsel for servicemen and the reason for the do's and don't's, particularly those that arise out of a religious background or concept. Sometimes in an attempt to do good, we err through lack of knowledge."
"The project holds potential promise. If we can understand the people, we can work with them more effectively. I'm trying to prepare lectures and training aids that will be used for military personnel ordered to Southeast Asia."
"There's a crying need for it. In order for the American to be able to live and work effectively with the people of Asia, we must understand those dynamics that determine their pattern of life and behavior patterns. We're not trying to Americanize the Asians. We're trying to help them reach their own goals. Of course, religion is the basic value decider of all humanity."
Mole was a Seventh-day Adventist. He was reared in central Florida. His wife, Jeannette, lives in Portland, Ore. His mother, Ethel Roark, lives in Orlando, Fla.

Good Play Got Bad Results

By JACOBY & SON
1965 Vanderbilt Cup Winners
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The best players don't get the best results with every hand. Sometimes they make the best mistakes. No one is immune to that. Other times they stop at a low contract and a fortunate break of the cards reward overbidders who have gone higher and sometimes the best play does not gather in the maximum number of tricks.
Thus in the recent Brooklyn tournament most declarers arrived at four hearts although at a few tables South played at one heart only.

The better players made five odd because they all played the hand so as to guarantee their contracts. This safety play consisted of ruffing the first club; cashing one high heart and entering dummy with a second heart. Then the jack of spades was led and allowed to ride. West would win with his queen and either take his ace of diamonds right away or wait until later. That made no difference.

Those players who overlooked the safety play managed to make six. They ran off several rounds of trumps and then finessed successfully against West's queen of spades.

So as to forestall argument with many readers we refuse to comment on whether or not the South hand is worth a forcing two bid opening. Personally we have an open mind on that subject and have no criticism of either a one bid or two bid opening with this particular hand.

Mrs. Cohen's Death Is Ruled Homicide By Coroner's Jury

A Sangamon County Coroner's jury returned a verdict of death by homicide at an inquest into the death of Mrs. Pauline Cohen, 36, of Sleepy Hollow near Dundee, whose fully clothed body was found July 26 in a cornfield near Springfield.

The all male jury stated that death was by a gunshot wound to the head inflicted by a .25 cal. automatic pistol in the hands of some person unknown.

Sangamon County, state, and federal police are seeking Robert Eugene Brock, alias Robert Stauffer, 35, of Joliet, for questioning in the Pauline Cohen slaying.

The platinum blonde former Lake Club songstress was the mother of four children, and resided in Jacksonville a number of years with her husband, Jerry, before moving to Sleepy Hollow near Dundee, a suburb of Chicago.

Three witnesses presented testimony at the inquest conducted by Dr. W. C. Telford: Russell Lott, Sangamon County Deputy Frank Pickett, and Dr. Grant Johnson.

Lott, on his way to work in a nearby beanfield, discovered the body of Mrs. Cohen at approximately 7:10 a.m.

Pickett, who investigated the slaying, testified, with the use of colored slides, that the body was apparently placed between rows of corn just inside the cornfield. He presented evidence that expensive jewelry was found on the body. He stated that no suspect has been apprehended in the case.

Dr. Johnson, pathologist at Memorial Hospital, testified as to the cause of death and presented color slides and motion picture studies of the autopsy.

Bruise On Body
He stated that puncture and abrasive wounds were discovered on the arms, lower legs, and feet of the victim and that a large bruise was discovered on the trunk of the body near the stomach.

He stated that a large cut was found on the back of the head, probably caused by some blunt instrument, but could not speculate on what the weapon may have been.

Dr. Johnson said there was no evidence of powder burns near the bullet hole, and estimated that the weapon may have been discharged as far away from Mrs. Cohen as 18 to 20 inches.

He approximated the time of death as about four hours from the time she was discovered, but said she may have been shot as long as two hours before she died.

Body Found In Field
Mrs. Cohen's body was discovered on the Joseph Spragg farm on route five in Fancy Creek township near Springfield. Her body was found near the location in which the headless body of Anthony DeRosa was discovered several years ago.

Sangamon County Sheriff James Christensen expressed no comment when asked about the puncture wounds found on the

Twins Boost Lead, Outslug Bosox, 8-5

BOSTON (AP) — The Minnesota Twins continued their mad dash toward the American League pennant by belting the Boston Red Sox 8-5 Friday night with a 10-hit attack featured by six doubles.

With scouts from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Milwaukee and Pittsburgh taking notes, the heavy-hitting Twins gave the representatives of the National League contenders plenty to report.

Zoilo Versalles triggered the Twins to their third straight triumph and 15th in 16 meetings with lowly Boston with a three-run double in the second inning.

Stanley, Lolick Carry Detroit Past Tribe, 2-0

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mickey Stanley ripped a two-run single in the fifth inning, and Mickey Lolick pitched a four-hitter as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Cleveland Indians 2-0 Friday night.

Lou Clinton, playing his first game for Cleveland, apparently had trouble adjusting to the lights in Municipal Stadium, losing Ray Oyler's fly ball and helping set up Stanley's run-scoring single.

Also on base was Bill Freehan, who had blooped a single over first base. Oyler got a double out of his fly to left, and both runners scored easily when Stanley slapped a liner through the box.

Lolick now 12-8, subdued the Indians easily. Cleveland mounted a threat in the eighth inning when Joe Azcue singled and Dick Howser walked with one out, but Larry Brown hit into a double play, ending the threat.

Phils Clip Cards In 12th Frame, 5-4

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Cookie Rojas' ground single drove in John Herrnstein in the 12th inning and gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 5-4 victory over St. Louis Friday night.

Pat Corrales got the winning rally started with a two-out double in the 12th, and Herrnstein went in to run. He promptly raced to third on a wild pitch by Hal Woodeshick. Tony Taylor followed with a walk.

Rojas then smashed a hard grounder up the middle. Shortstop Dick Groat made a diving stop but was too late trying for a force at second base as Herrnstein scored.

The Cardinals tied the score in the eighth inning, scoring on singles by Bob Toian and Lou

Senators Erase Old Win Record With 4-1 Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators won their 63rd game, a record for their five expansion years, when they defeated California 4-1 Friday night and moved to within 2½ games of the seventh-place Angels.

Senators are assured of not losing 100 games for the first time since expansion.

Pete A. Richter staggered through five innings and gained his 13th victory but needed relief help from Steve Ridzik. Richter allowed four hits, but walked six.

Frank Howard collected three hits and Dick Nen a pair of run-scoring singles for the Senators, who knocked out Marcelino Lopez with a three-run third inning.

Hendley's Name Goes Into Book With Koufax

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bob Hendley lost the ball game but he gets his name in baseball's record book anyhow.

Hendley, 26-year-old native of Macon, Ga., was the losing pitcher Thursday night when Sandy Koufax, the fantastic left-handed hurler for the Los Angeles Dodgers, registered a no-hit, no-man-reach-first game at the expense of the Chicago Cubs.

For seven innings Hendley also had a no-hitter. Then Lou Johnson connected for a harmless double with two out. That was the game's only blow and the contest goes into the record books as the major leagues' only game ever played with one hit.

Hendley has been in the major leagues since 1961 when he was brought up by the Milwaukee Braves. He won 25 games and lost 29 with them and then went to San Francisco in the 1963 deal that sent Bob Shaw and Del Crandall to the Giants.

In May of this year he was swapped by the Giants to the Cubs in a five-player deal that also brought Harvey Kuenn to the Chicagoans. Subsequently, he was shipped to the Cubs farm at Salt Lake in the Pacific Coast League.

Hendley, also a southpaw, can find sympathy from his Cub teammate, Dick Ellsworth, who also lost a one-hitter to the Dodgers. That happened on May 15.

Hendley emerged from the 1-0 setback with a smile. The crowd gave him a smattering of applause, but saved the roars for Koufax.

"Hendley will win a lot of games pitching like this," said Cub head coach Lou Klein. Later, the blond left-hander thought about the pitch he served up to Johnson.

"I threw him a let-up pitch," he said. "It was an off-speed slip pitch."

The loss marked a brief check in Hendley's recent rise in fortunes. He had just been recalled from the minors, and had beaten St. Louis a few days ago. His season's major league record is 2-3.

Teal Hunters Should Be On Best Behavior

MINNEAPOLIS — Hunters participating in the special experimental teal season in the Mississippi and Central Flyways should be on their best behavior, state and federal wildlife agencies warned today.

Only teal ducks will be legal game during the experimental season in most states of the two flyways, and all other species of ducks will be rigidly protected.

Persons who shoot ducks other than teal during the season, either accidentally or intentionally, will be prosecuted, the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife has announced.

The burden of identifying legal species before shooting will be on the hunter, the Bureau said, and the overall success of hunters is properly identifying flying ducks will largely determine whether teal seasons will be held in the future.

The wildlife agencies reminded hunters that they must have special permits from the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, distributed by the states, to take part in the teal season, as well as proper hunting licenses. All hunters 16 years of age or over must also have a current Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp, available at all U.S. post offices.

Permit holders will be allowed four teal per day during the special short seasons. In the two flyways, the blue-winged teal is the most common of the three teal species. The green-winged teal is a later migrant than the blue-wing, and only occasionally does the cinnamon teal venture east into the north central states.

The best way to "bone up" on teal identification is to spend a couple of days afield before the season opens observing ducks in flight.

Also helpful are several excellent bird identification books available in most libraries, and the U.S. Department of the Interior's booklet, "Ducks at a Distance." The latter is available for 25 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C.

Blue-winged teal in fall lack the white facial crescent of spring plumage but do have a noticeable light blue patch near the forward part of the upper wing. This can be confused only with those of the cinnamon teal and the shoveller, the latter being a slightly larger duck having a pronounced spatulate bill.

Hunters should exercise special caution in hunting the wooded river bottoms where wood ducks are common. Light conditions and flight habits of ducks in this type habitat often prevent hunters from getting a good look at ducks in gun range.

A good motto for teal hunters to adopt is, "If in doubt, don't."

Hunters should check both state and federal waterfowl regulations for full details of the season.

Ashland Blanks Athens By 3-0

ASHLAND — A three-run uprising in the third gave Larry Lewis all the support he needed Friday afternoon, as he hurled Ashland to a 3-0 Sangamon conference triumph over Athens.

Lewis whiffed 12 batters in the seven innings, walked three and gave up only four hits in the shutout.

Ashland got their three runs in the third by bunting four of their nine hits. Ed Orne started it with a triple and scored on Bill Mau's single. Singles by Calvin Forman and Tom Johnson chased the other two across.

Ashland is now 3-1 overall, 2-1 in the conference. 000 000 0-0 4 4 Athens 003 000 X-3 9 2

Fishing Lines

When a fish jumps, a fisherman's heart should jump with it.

But one must remember this: When a hooked fish thrusts itself free of the water, it's no time to admire the view. Not if one wants to catch fish.

There is a belief in some quarters that when such things happen, an angler's best bet is to hang on and hope. Certainly many fish have been caught this way, but the fact is, a fish that breaks water stands a fair chance of throwing the hook, and the aware fisherman will act to prevent this.

His concern at such times should be the tension of his line. And since a fish in flight tends to be but a shade slower than a lightning flash, there is hardly time for decision-making. But none is needed really. The decision was made back in the bait box.

A weighted lure, such as one of the three Vs—Voblex, Veltic or Vixen spinners—requires a taut line. If there is slack in the line, the weight of the lure will permit it to flop around and perhaps jiggle the hook free.

It's different with a weightless lure, such as a bass bug or fly. These are used with very light leaders, which, if taut, can easily snap should the fish happen to land on it. There is also less chance that a weightless lure will rip free, so slack off on the line.

In other words, the lure determines the action you should take. If it's weighted, tighten up; if it's weightless, ease up. That way you will not only enjoy the sight of a jumping fish, but you'll stand a better chance of eventually landing him.

Yanks Knock Sox A's Sign Satchel Paige

CHICAGO (AP) — Mel Stottlemyre posted his 17th victory and drove in the lead run with a double as the New York Yankees defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-1 Friday night and knocked them into third place in the American League.

The White Sox absorbed their fourth straight loss and the Baltimore Orioles slipped passed them into second place.

Stottlemyre, padding his record to 17-8, scattered eight hits while striking out three and walking three.

Stottlemyre's double, following Phil Linz' single, pushed the Yankees ahead 2-1 in the fourth inning. Tom Tresh hit his seventh homer off White Sox pitching this season in the fifth.

Pirates Close In By Downing Reds 7-0

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates took advantage of Joey Jay's wildness and rode Willie Stargell's three-run homer to a 7-0 victory over the Cincinnati Reds Friday night.

The Pirates scored a run in the first inning on three walks and a fielder's choice, and Stargell capped a four-run second with his 26th homer.

The loss dropped the Reds one game behind the National League-leading San Francisco Giants, who played Chicago.

The fifth-place Pirates are four games out.

Ace left-hander Bob Veale struggled throughout the game but was tough in the clutch and picked up his 16th victory in 26 decisions.

A's Sign Satchel Paige

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Fabulous Leroy (Satchel) Paige, whose baseball pitching feats both legendary and real began in Chattanooga, Tenn., in 1926, signed a contract with the Kansas City Athletics Friday.

At a hastily called news conference Satchel, still tall and lean at 193 pounds, solemnly signed a contract for General Manager Hank Peters after agreeing on terms in a telephone agreement with owner Charles O. Finley in Chicago.

"I thought they were kidding," said ageless Satchel, whose birth date is recorded in the baseball register as July 7, 1906. There are many who insist you could put Satchel's birth date back into the last century and be closer than the 59 years in the records.

But Satchel, confronted with the 1906 date, asked: "Who did the research on that? Whoever he was, he knows more than I do. I'm 58 shades over 50."

"I think I can still pitch and help this club," he added. "So what difference does it make what my age is if I can?"

It is probable that he can help because Finley announced that he was planning a big Satchel Paige appreciation day for Sept. 25 and that Satchel would be the starting pitcher against the Boston Red Sox.

"I'll need a few days to get in really good shape," said Satchel who will be returning to the big leagues after a 12-year absence. "Then I'll do whatever the manager says."

Peters said Paige would join the Athletics in Minneapolis the first of next week.

"How much he will pitch will depend on a lot of things," Peters said. "Satchel will have to find out what he can do."

This will be Paige's second or third, depending on how you count it—stint in the majors.

He came up with Cleveland in 1948 when the Indians were driving toward the American League pennant.

His signing at that time was widely regarded as a stunt, but Paige posted a 6-1 record, primarily in relief and worked two thirds of an inning—retiring World Series against the New York Giants.

Paige, already a legend, had a 4-7 record with the Indians in 1949, and was out of organized baseball in 1950, playing with Negro leagues and barnstorming.

Back With Browns

He came back for three seasons with the old St. Louis Browns for 1951-53, compiling an 18-23 record in three years. He was 12-10 in 1952.

The Orioles released him in 1954 when the St. Louis franchise was moved to Baltimore and the storied old pitcher once again went to barnstorming.

He later worked in the minor leagues for several years, compiling records of 11-4, 11-8 and 10-2 with Miami in the International League in the years 1956-58. Another barnstorming career followed, and only last week he was talking of becoming a playing manager for a team in Alaska.

Paige was at least in his 50s when he was with Miami. His exact age is impossible to determine, and Old Satch isn't talking. Or when he does, he gives conflicting versions.

When he first came to the majors, most record books listed his birth date as Sept. 22, 1908. That would make him just short of his 57th birthday.

The Orioles, however, had his birth date listed as 1904, making him about 61.

The latter is probably more nearly correct. Paige was one of the foremost barnstorming pitchers of the 1920s, long before the Negroes broke into the majors. He admitted to being 50 in the mid-1950s.

Koufax First To Pitch Four No-Hitters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The favorite story this year about the Los Angeles Dodgers goes like this:

"Did you hear about Sandy Koufax pitching a no-hitter last night?" "No. Who won?"

There was no better time than Friday to repeat the story because the brilliant Koufax pitched a perfect no-hit, no-run game. He was the first man in baseball history to hurl four no-hitters. His other three were marred by bases on balls.

And the Dodgers won 1-0 over the Chicago Cubs, to ruin a brilliant one-hitter by Bob Hendley.

The lone Dodger hit was a blooming double in the seventh by Lou Johnson which proved meaningless to Los Angeles but a crusher to Hendley, 26-year-old left-hander.

It was Johnson in the fifth who drew the only walk issued by Hendley. Ron Fairly sacrificed Johnson to second. Johnson then stole third and came on home on a throw to left field by rookie catcher Chris Krug. He was charged with an error and the Dodger run was unearned.

Johnson was the only player on either team to reach first base.
